

B.C. Wins Hearing In Freight Rates Fight

Transport Board Will Hear Case On Differential

The Board of Transport Commissioners will listen to British Columbia's plea for removal of the mountain differential on railway freight rates.

Premier Byron Johnson today was advised by Frank M. MacPherson, a member of the board, that B.C.'s case will be heard in Vancouver.

The board suggests that the hearing start Oct. 18, but Premier Johnson is asking that it be deferred to Nov. 8, or Nov. 1, so that the province can have a longer period in which to prepare its case.

He is suggesting also that hearings be held in Kelowna and Nelson as well as in Vancouver.

The premier, who with Mrs. Johnson is leaving Thursday for London, England, to attend the first postwar conference of the Empire Parliamentary Association, was elated over the board's decision to hear B.C.'s case.

FINEST GIFT

"That's the finest gift we could receive," he smiled.

The premier will return from London by Nov. 1, after which, he hopes, the hearings will be held.

Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer will present the province's arguments in the fight for removal of the mountain differential.

"He already has the preparatory work well in hand and is being assisted in this regard by Charles Brazier," Premier Johnson said. (Mr. Brazier is a Vancouver lawyer who has been assistant counsel in all of the province's freight rates' representations.)

The facilities of the Bureau of Economics have been placed at the disposal of the attorney-general who will appear before the transport board and take complete charge of the presentation of all evidence supporting B.C.'s case, as well as presenting the final plea based on the evidence produced.

The decision of the Board of Transport Commissioners to hear the case on the mountain differential follows strong representations made by Premier Johnson that B.C.'s claim for removal of the differential be heard before consideration is given to any other application for increases in freight rates, or before the appointment of a Royal Commission to inquire generally into the Canadian freight rate structure.

It is understood hearings on the mountain differential also will take place in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Russia Still Wants 45 Ships Of Former War Fleet Of Italy

ROME (AP)—A naval spokesman said today Russia and Italy are engaged in a quiet tug-of-war over 45 of Mussolini's warships. He said Russia appears to be emerging as winner.

The warships include a 25-year-old battleship and several newer submarines and other craft. They were tagged for Russia in the Italian peace treaty, which disposed of nearly all of Italy's fleet.

But as long as discussions continue over the fleet, the spokesman said, Italy does not feel obliged to deliver Russia's share, amounting to one-fourth of the fleet.

France renounced her "war booty" share of the fleet, but she recently received as restitution for her war losses two Italian cruisers, four destroyers, a tanker, sloop, six tugboats and three or four minor craft.

Yugoslavia has received seven mine-sweepers. Britain and the United States renounced their shares, including two modern battleships, which are being scrapped in Italian shipyards.

The spokesman said Italy hopes to convince Russia it would further her own interests to renounce ships due her as war booty.

Leduc Well Still Spitting Flame But Danger Lessens

EDMONTON (CP)—Atlantic No. 3, the Peck's bad boy of the Leduc oil field, was still spitting bursts of flame and rock into the sky today, but the initiative in the battle between the wild well and the men seeking to tame it seems back in the hands of the men.

To watchers from outside the fire area, the blaze appeared worse than ever Tuesday night. The pall of smoke, which screened the well when the fire broke out Monday, had lifted and the blazing well-head was clearly visible to observers at South Edmonton, 15 miles away.

But the well's field of activity is gradually shrinking. Huge mounds of earth are being pushed closer to the fire area by bulldozers, sealing off the blaze from the remaining riches of the $300,000,000 Leduc oil field.

Surface oil, spewed up by the well in its six-month rampage, has burned away, leaving leaking ground fissures and the heaving well-head itself as the only fire centres.

How long the flames will lick the restricted area left to them is still a guess. Field workers today continued to pour water into the heart of the well—a task they have been pursuing for months—in an effort to choke off the flow of oil and natural gas that is costing the well owner more than $50,000 a day.

New C.P. Empress Reports Stormy Atlantic Crossing

QUEBEC (CP)—The newly-converted liner Empress of France was delayed en route to Montreal today when a steamship broke shortly after she had cleared this port with 700 passengers.

The Canadian Pacific Steamships' newest luxury liner docked here late Tuesday night after her first postwar crossing of the Atlantic. She cleared early today.

During the crossing the ship met a series of Atlantic gales but showed no signs of damage.

Soviets Scheme To Upset Berlin Crisis Parleys

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Marshall said today Communist attacks on the Berlin city government were largely intended to upset talks of the Big Four military governors on the crisis in the Soviet-blockaded German capital.

Marshall said the efforts to disrupt these talks must be firmly resisted. He declined at a press conference to say that any resistance involves military measures.

Earlier, the Secretary of State had received from the military high command a detailed account of the situation in Germany and in Berlin.

GIVEN FIGURES

It was understood this meeting was called to give the secretary a precise briefing on the strength and capabilities of U.S. armed forces in the area.

Questioned at his press conference, Marshall said the Berlin disorders followed a familiar Communist pattern. He said the Communists were not inclined to aid efforts of the Military Governors to work out a settlement there.

Coast Longshore Leader To Dicker With Army Officers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Leaders of striking C.I.O. longshoremen arranged to meet with army officers here today to discuss the army's shipping in the light of the week-old tie-up of west coast ports.

Harry Bridges, president of the longshore union, said that "all unions in the nation would support the stevedores" in case army personnel is used to handle military cargoes.

An army spokesman in Washington said military personnel would handle army cargo essential for overseas bases if an agreement is not reached with the longshoremen.

Bridges said his longshoremen would load army ships if the prevailing port wage is paid. He said a 15-cent an hour wage raise included in a new contract with independents in Seattle would apply to any army work. Bridges was to meet with army officers here this afternoon.

More Oil Companies Agree To Negotiate Pay With Strikers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Four more major oil companies agreed today to negotiate with the C.I.O. Oil Workers' Union in efforts to settle the four-day-old refinery strike which has caused a steady dwindling of petroleum stocks in the western U.S.

Shell Oil met with the union here Tuesday and scheduled an other meeting today. State Conciliation Supervisor Glenn Bowers said "several feelers were put out by both sides," though nothing had been settled.

Meetings have been arranged for later in the week with Standard, Union, Associated and Richardson. Bowers was confident the other big company involved, Texaco, would be lined up also.

500,000 Japanese Slaves Held By Reds Is Charge

TOKYO (AP)—In a roundabout way, Allied headquarters today accused the Russians of using 500,000 Japanese as slave labor to bolster the Soviet's war potentials.

Allied headquarters released a statement quoting an "unidentified Allied headquarters spokesman" as saying a "sharply worded letter" had been sent on behalf of Gen. MacArthur Sept. 3 to Lt. Gen. Kuzma Derevyanko, Russian member of the Allied Council for Japan, charging the U.S.S.R. with failure to

Five Fliers Parachute In Alberta; 3 Killed

EDMONTON (CP)—Three United States Air Force men were killed early today when their parachutes failed to open after they were ordered to bail out of a Dakota transport from Rome, N.Y., near Wetaskiwin, Alta., about 40 miles southeast of Edmonton.

The plane was carrying eight men and the pilot ordered all except the co-pilot and engineer to bail out shortly before the two-engine plane crashed and burned in a field.

Five members of the crew jumped, three died and two were injured in landing, one seriously. The pilot also was injured and was taken to hospital probably in nearby Camrose, Alta., where an R.C.A.F. ambulance was standing by.

Names of all the victims and survivors will be withheld until next of kin are notified. An investigation will be held immediately, R.C.A.F. officials reported.

Seek Habeas Writ To Free Canadian Labor Union Head

NEW YORK (AP)—The United Electrical Workers' Union (C.I.O.) has started habeas corpus proceedings in an effort to free a Canadian labor leader seized by immigration authorities as he arrived at La Guardia Field Tuesday.

A writ issued Tuesday by Judge H. Simon Rifkind directed the authorities to produce C. S. Jackson, Toronto, in federal district court today. Jackson was suspected of being connected with the Communist Party.

Jackson, who came here as a delegate to the national convention of the electrical workers, was taken from the airport to Ellis Island.

He is an international vice-president of the U.E.W. and head of District 5, its Canadian affiliate.

The Immigration Service in Washington said Jackson and eight other Canadians on their way to the convention had been "temporarily excluded" from the United States as members of the "excludable classes" under a 1918 law.

British Unions Vote Down Early State Steel Move

MARGATE, Kent, Eng. (AP)—The Trades Union Congress, backbone of the Labor government, decisively defeated today a resolution calling for immediate nationalization of Britain's iron and steel industry.

Instead, delegates to the T.U.C.'s annual conference approved an amendment recognizing "the need for the care exercised by the government in determining the future of this important and complex industry."

Nationalization of the industry is the most controversial of the projects put forward since the Labor government came to power in 1945.

It has caused strife in the Parliamentary Labor Party, with the extreme left demanding immediate action. Moderates, led by Prime Minister Attlee, have been following a go-slow policy, to avoid dislocating the industry at the time of national economic crisis.

Shelled By Jews

AHMAD, Trans-Jordan (AP)—An Arab Legion communiqué today said Jews lobbed mortar shells into an Arab garrison at Jerusalem this morning and scored a direct hit on St. Saviour's Monastery headquarters.

The communiqué said the firing lasted for some time. Two legionnaires and two Arab irregulars were reported killed. The communiqué added that Jews tried to penetrate Arab positions Tuesday night, but were thrown back.

Strong Quake Recorded; Centre Probably In Japan

One of the strongest earthquakes recorded for a considerable time was reported by officials at the Astrophysical Observatory here today.

Dr. K. O. Wright, seismologist at the observatory, said the first wave arrived at 8:21.37 a.m., P.D.T., second wave at 8:31.19 and the long, or surface wave at 8:46.50.

These data, Dr. Wright said, place the epicentre of the shock 5,200 miles from Victoria.

Dr. Wright suggested the shock centred in Japan because reports from San Francisco placed the quake the same distance from the bay area.

OTHER REPORTS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An earthquake of "considerable proportions" was recorded today on seismographs in the bay area.

It was about 5,200 miles distant in an undetermined direction.

The seismograph at the University of California at Berkeley started recording the shock at 8:21.02 a.m., P.D.T.

Rev. John Anthony Weber, S.J., at Santa Clara University, said the quake could have caused considerable damage.

Mitchum, Three Others Rebooked After Grand Jury Indictment

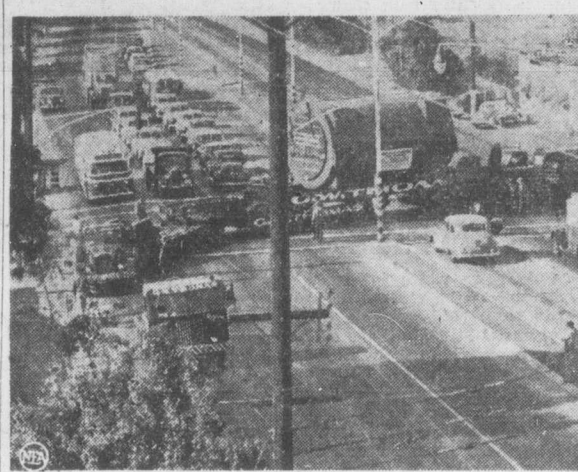

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Robert Mitchum, starlet Lila Leeds and two others will be rebooked today on narcotics charges as a result of grand jury indictments issued against them.

The four, including dancer Vickie Evans and Robin Ford, a real estate agent, were indicted by the county grand jury Tuesday on two counts—possessing marijuana and conspiring to possess the forbidden drug.

They were arrested last Wednesday when police and federal narcotics officers raided a secluded Hollywood cottage rented by Miss Leeds. Booked on suspicion of violating narcotics laws, they were released on $1,000 bond each, pending a hearing today on petitions for writs of habeas corpus.

Radical Socialists Asked To Form French Cabinet

PARIS (AP)—Henri Queuille, Minister of Public Works, said today President Vincent Auriol had asked him to form a new government.

Robert Schuman's cabinet was overthrown Tuesday night after it had been in office 64 hours. General elections seemed probable.

Queuille visited the President at the Elysee Palace after Edouard Herriot, 76 and sick, announced he had rejected an offer. Auriol for the first time also consulted Rightist followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle in an effort to solve the crisis.

The Communists, in an official party statement, offered their participation in a cabinet of "democratic union."

Wheat Crop To Top Figure For 1947

WINNIPEG (CP)—The prairies are expected to harvest a wheat crop of 365,500,000 bushels this year compared with 319,000,000 in 1947, the Winnipeg Tribune said today in its sixth telegraphic crop report for the current season.

In a preliminary survey Aug. 18, the Tribune said that if crop conditions prevailing then were maintained, a wheat crop of at least 344,500,000 bushels would be harvested.

"Yields have turned out better than anticipated at that time, with most improvement noted in Saskatchewan."

The Tribune said oats and barley totals showed good increases compared with its preliminary forecast.

Smelter Worker Killed

TRAIL (CP)—Robert John Schaffer, 24-year-old employee of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company's zinc plant, was killed early today when he fell into a bin of zinc concentrates. Co-workers said he lost his balance while unloading a car of concentrates into the bin, a distance of 20 feet.

She will leave the city Sept. 16 aboard R.M.S. Aorangi for New Zealand.

Miss Rickaby who wrote a series of articles for The Victoria Daily Times last year on a world trip, will remain in New Zealand for at least three years.

Economist Charges Red-Led Picketing Revolutionary Plan

MONTREAL (CP) — Under the guise of picketing, Communist-led labor unions are preparing for a social revolution in Canada, Prof. Gilbert E. Jackson of Toronto, prominent economist, told members of the Montreal Rotary Club Tuesday.

Canadians, he said, must support labor union leaders who are now fighting communism and Communists in their own ranks.

"For months past," he said,
"a strike has been in progress on the Great Lakes against certain Canadian Lake shipping companies."

He continued: "Gangs of armed men have intercepted on land sailors proceeding to their vessels, have abused them, and beaten them senseless or kidnapped them. Other gangs of armed men have boarded ships pirate-style and by force, or well-backed threats of force, taken off their crews. Other gangs have made it impossible for certain ships to dock at certain ports. Still other gangs have deliberately damaged ships which they could not board."

"These things no doubt were done in hot blood, but before that they were planned in cold blood."

He compared the rise of Communist-led labor unions in Canada to the pattern followed by the Fascists in Italy and the Nazis in Germany.

Mr. Jackson also said that what he described as "Red Fascists" are training private armies in Canada.

Hold To Private Enterprise, Visitor From U.K. Advises

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS
(CP)—Mrs. E. B. Bonet, woman councillor from Cornwall, Eng., and Mayor M. Calloway of Sumner, Wash., were guest speakers at Tuesday's opening session of the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention here.

Mrs. Bonet, who has been in Canada for two months, advised the delegates to "keep private enterprise."

"Don't start nationalizing anything," she said. "I'd be sorry to hear when I get home that you over here had done such a thing."

Mayor Calloway, representing the Association of Washington Cities, extended the good wishes of Washington State and the entire United States.

He noted "minute differences" between Canadians and U.S. citizens. "You have more beautiful scenery and more friendly people," he said. "You are not in such a gosh-darned hurry—you have time to be friendly."

400 Police Seek Jamaica Killer

KINGSTON, Jamaica (CP)—
More than 400 police continued a widespread search today for killer Ivan Martin.

The swashbuckling desperado has slain at least three persons, wounded seven others and terrorized Jamaicans since he went on the rampage a week ago. The convicted burglar broke out of penitentiary last April.

Police dashed from point to point in the city as every rumor concerning the convict's whereabouts was run to earth.

Cranks and notoriety-seekers flooded newspapers with claims that they were Martin, boasted their "exploits" and threatened to wipe out the police force to a man.

Possibility Of Arson Checked In Willows Fire Probe

Investigation which opened this morning at the Willows fairgrounds by a representative of the Provincial Fire Marshal's office is expected to determine whether the blaze which leveled the goat building early yesterday morning was of incendiary origin.

Making the investigation is D.
A. Cumming, one of the assistant fire marshals.

Oak Bay Fire Chief E. G.
Claydars called for a survey by the provincial fire officials "because I am not satisfied the fire started from natural causes."

The fire department was unable to save the building, which was 200 feet long and 75 feet in width and located about 400 feet back of and to the south of the racing grandstand. Firemen bent their efforts to preventing the spread of flames to other buildings.

It is understood that S. W.
Randall, Vancouver, owner of the fairgrounds, has ordered a night-watchman to keep an eye on the buildings, the same precaution which was taken after the April 19 fire last year which demolished the main building and badly damaged the women's building.

Reaffirms Loyalty To United Kingdom

BELFAST (Reuter) — Prime Minister Sir Basil Brooke Tuesday reaffirmed Northern Ireland's loyalty to Britain in a reply to Prime Minister John Costello of Eire, who said in Ottawa that his government is preparing to repeal the External Relations Act and thus sever the last link with the British crown.

"Those who have followed the course of events will not be surprised that Eire is preparing to scrap the act," he said.
"Already Eire's political leaders have declared their country is not a member of the British Commonwealth. We in Ulster have always foreseen this development, which completely justifies our unwavering refusal to join Eire in deserting Britain and the British communities overseas."

A rooming house owned by D.
P. Cameron at 1460 Gladstone Avenue, sustained about $1,500 worth of damage Monday morning when a fire, which started in the gutter, wrecked a portion of the roof and attic.

7 Hurt In Crash On Alaska Highway

FORT ST. JOHN, B.C. (CP)—
Seven men were injured early Sunday in a three-car collision near this Peace River district town, when a truck with another vehicle in tow collided with a third automobile at Mile 38 of the Alaska Highway.

Most seriously injured was Roderick McPherson, 18, of Ponoka, Alta.; a passenger in a car driven by Donald Hill of Taylor Flats, B.C. McPherson suffered a possible fracture of the skull and a neck fracture.

Hill suffered an arm fracture and internal injuries and Spr.

Canadian Engineers, another passenger in the Hill car, is suffer-not injured.

U.S. Authorities Halt Canoe Trip Of Canadian Logger

SEATTLE (AP) — A Canadian logger's intended trip in a 14-foot steel canoe from Victoria, B.C., to San Francisco ended abruptly Tuesday at the U.S.
Coast Guard's Quillayute River life-boat station on the northwest
Washington coast.

The surprised crew of a fishing vessel sighted him paddling along 10 miles off shore and a cutter picked him up. He had five gallons of water along.

He gave his name as Owen Douglas Young and said he was a Canadian citizen. He left Victoria Sept. 1, paddling through the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

"I figured if I got tired paddling, I could pull into shore and get a train," he said.

He carried a passport issued at Ottawa and properly visaed for the United States. Customs authorities, when notified, asked the state police to pick him up at Forks Tuesday night for return to Canada because of illegal entry to this country.

He said he was a member of the Navy League of Canada in 1948 and of the Canadian Red Cross.

British Pensioners Will Receive Autos

LONDON (CP)—Britain's seriously disabled war pensioners will in future be provided with automobiles instead of the motor-propelled tricycles at present available to them, it was announced in the Commons by Pensions Minister Marquand.

Small automobiles, not exceeding a total of 1,500, will be made available to them in free supply in the next two years.

The cars will remain pensions ministry property, but the pensioner will be responsible for driving license, garaging, maintenance and running costs. He will receive an annual grant towards the cost of these items. The ministry will be responsible for road tax payment and insurance.

Classes able to obtain cars will be double leg amputees, with at least one amputation above the knee, paraplegics and pensioners suffering from other disabilities resulting in the total, or almost total, loss of use of both legs.

When these needs have been met, the cars will be distributed to other seriously injured pensioners at present supplied with tricycles to allow them to obtain or retain employment, and to blind pensioners who need a car for the same purpose.

The cars will be of standard British make, but no contract for their manufacture has yet been given.

Claims Skilled Workers Paid More In U.K. Than Canada

TORONTO (CP)—Skilled United Kingdom workers are turning down chances of employment in Canada because wage offers are less than those paid in Britain, F. C. Fitzpatrick, a member of visiting British Trade Mission, said Tuesday night.

He said in an interview skilled men are being offered up to $1.50 an hour here and they would have to get $1.75 an hour or more to meet a similar standard of living to that now obtained in Great Britain.

Object of the mission is to study needs of Canadian industry for non-productive or capital machinery. Eventual sales of this machinery in Canada are expected to fortify the United Kingdom's waning dollar supply, badly needed for purchases of Canadian foodstuffs.

Provinces To Ask Delay In Freight Rate Application

OTTAWA (CP)—Seven provincial governments today notified the Board of Transport Commissioners they will move to hold up the railways' latest application for freight rate increases until the Dominion government has ruled on their request for a royal commission on railway freight rates.

In a formal notice received by the board today, the governments of all provinces except Ontario and Quebec said they would apply Sept. 21 for a stay in hearings on the railways application.

The railways, which received a 21 per cent freight rate increase in March have applied for an interim increase of 15 per cent and a permanent increase of 20 per cent.

The seven provinces have asked for a royal commission into Canada's whole railway problem. A few days ago the justice department gave the federal cabinet an opinion that such a royal commission could not constitutionally deal with the matter of freight rates. The government already has ordered the Board of Transport Commissioners to launch an inquiry into Canada's basic freight rate structure.

The government has not yet announced what course it plans to follow on the application for a royal commission.

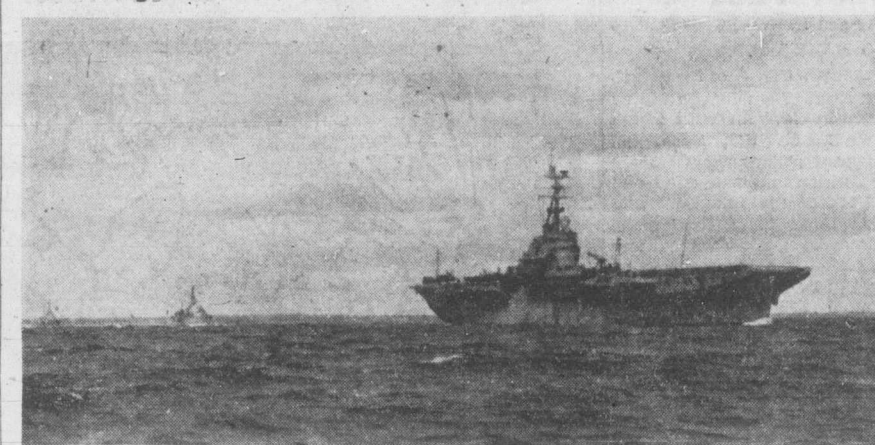

The notice filed today merely informs the board of the provinces' intention to ask on Sept. 21 that no board action be taken pending a government announcement regarding the application for a royal commission.

DELAY PROTESTED

Today's notice also disclosed that the provinces involved have protested to the federal government against "delay" in getting a cabinet decision on their July 20 petition for a royal commission.

Documents filed with the board include an Aug. 27 letter from Premier Macdonald of Nova Scotia, chairman of the committee of seven premiers, asking External Affairs Minister St. Laurent—then acting Prime Minister—for early action.

The royal party, which went dancing after a state concert on the occasion of Queen Juliana's enthronement, included Princess Martha of Norway. Juliana returned to her palace after the concert.

Princess Margaret represented the British Royal Family at Queen Juliana's investiture Monday.

Tuesday the Princess lunched with Canadian Ambassador Dupuy and Mrs. Dupuy.

Keep Close Check

PRAGUE (AP)—State funeral service will be held under close police surveillance today for former President Eduard Benes.

Strict security precautions have been taken throughout Prague following interior ministry claims that attempts would be made to "desecrate" the funeral. Sokol, the conservative cultural and gymnastic organization, was mentioned by the ministry as likely to hold demonstrations. Incitement from "abroad" was blamed.

Court Postpones Deportation Case On French Count

MONTREAL (CP)—The case of Count Jacques Duce de Bernonville, appealing against a federal deportation order, was postponed in superior court here today to Sept. 14.

Bernonville, under sentence of death in France as an alleged wartime collaborator and charged now with having entered Canada illegally, did not appear in court.

His representations were made by his lawyer, Bernard Bourdon. A crowd of some 250 in the courtroom and about 100 who waited outside for a glimpse of the man whose picture appeared in Montreal papers today in the uniform of the Chasseurs Alpins showed disappointment.

There was no immediate reason given for the postponement. Bernonville, his wife and two daughters have been held in immigration cells here since their arrest last Thursday on a deportation order signed by Resources Minister MacKinnon.

The deportation order has brought protests from Mayor Camille Houde of Montreal and some prominent members of the French Colony in Quebec City and Montreal.

HAD FALSE PASSPORT

Dr. H. L. Keenleyside, deputy resources minister, said Bernonville entered Canada with a false passport in violation of Canadian law. He had been ordered deported and unless this order is rescinded must leave Canada sometime after the middle of September.

Dr. Keenleyside said Bernonville was a "notorious collaborator with the Nazis" during the German occupation of France. But Mayor Houde and other supporters claimed Bernonville was an authentic French hero. The Montreal mayor said the deportation order was a "crying injustice."

Insurance Official Must Repay $54,000

VANCOUVER (CP)—Ralph White, former secretary-treasurer of the National Health Association, has been ordered by the B.C. Supreme Court to repay to the society more than $54,000.

In a decision brought down Tuesday, Mr. Justice J. M. Coady found White had received a total of $79,134 from the society. Of that amount the court allowed about $25,000 for personal services and traveling expenses and ordered White to refund the balance of $54,385.

The judgment calls for repayment of the amount plus 5 per cent interest from "the time the money was paid or the property transferred."

Troops to enter, was released Tuesday night to the press.

"My own troops are able to satisfactorily safeguard the life and property of my own subjects," the Nizam wrote, "and are fully capable of dealing with the situation."

Promises Ireland To Aid If Canada Attacked By Reds

DUBLIN (CP)—Prime Minister Costello's promise that Eire will stand by Canada if the Dominion is threatened by a Communist country, prompted the Irish Times today to urge a defensive alliance with Western European democracies.

In an editorial entitled "Which Way?" the newspaper asked if Costello expressed the official government policy in suggesting recently in Ottawa, a military agreement with Canada.

Eire would not at present accept a similar obligation towards Western European countries, the newspaper said.

The paper added that presumably Ireland is being committed also to a defensive alliance with the United States, to whom Canada is linked by close military ties.

Saying that the "day for half methods is over," the Times added:

"This country ought to leave its sense of community with all the western democracies under no shadow of doubt."

"If a western union is coming, Ireland's place is among its protagonists."

"If war is coming it is her business to declare her attitude without further delay and enter into such military commitments as naturally may follow from that policy."

Schooner Bowdoin In Arctic Record

BRUNSWICK, Me. (AP)—Explorer Donald B. MacMillan reported that his schooner Bowdoin had "beat" its record by reaching to within 11 degrees of the North Pole.

In a telegram to President Kenneth C. M. Bills of Bowdoin College from Battle Harbor, Labrador, Dr. MacMillan said the Bowdoin, veteran of many Arctic trips, had just returned from an "8,000-mile northern trip."

"We went through heavy ice packs. Landed Ellsmere and Baffinland," the telegram said. "Thrilling experiences with walrus and polar bears."

U.B.C.M. Against Application To Seek Sales Tax Exemption

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS (CP)—British Columbia municipalities, seeking relief from federal taxation, today urged exemption of all heavy machinery used solely for municipal purposes from duty and excise tax.

A Burnaby resolution asking the provincial government to approach the federal cabinet for such exemption was endorsed by delegates to the 45th annual convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, now in its second day.

WOULD LIFT TAX

A request that the Dominion government withdraw its 8-per cent sales tax from all materials used in the development of municipal and public works projects was defeated.

The Okanagan Valley Municipal Association, which submitted the resolution, said the high and steadily-rising costs of materials was seriously retarding installation and expansion of municipal and public works projects throughout the Dominion.

Reeve L. S. Metford of Salmon Arm District, president of the Okanagan Valley Association, said:

"We feel we shouldn't be handicapped by inclusion of a hidden tax in our expenses."

The motion was defeated after Reeve R. A. B. Wootton of Oak Bay had commented: "The government, whether provincial or federal, should pay taxes."

Delegates also turned "thumbs down" on a resolution asking exemption for municipalities of the provincial government's 3-per cent sales tax.

Mayor Nora Arnold of Prince Rupert, opposing the resolution, told delegates: "The provincial government pays the tax. We, the municipalities, should stick by it."

COST OF EDUCATION

The 141 delegates were unanimous in their refusal to ask the federal government to pay one-half the total cost of education, including construction of schools, at the request of any one province.

Mayor Percy George of Victoria, union vice-president, told the delegates:

"You're asking your executive to pull rabbits from a hat. We must use common sense and go to the province on provincial matters, not to the federal government."

He said the British North America Act "doesn't give the Dominion power to regulate education within the provinces."

'Complaining Failure' Says Stassen Of U.S. President

NEW YORK (AP)—Republicans keyed their newly-launched presidential campaign today to the theme that President Truman is a "complaining" failure.

That was Harold E. Stassen's "answer" to Truman's Labor Day charges that an "era of fear" and depression might result from a victory by Republican "reactionaries" in November.

Stassen made the rebuttal for Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Republican candidate, who said he liked everything in the speech about Truman and the Democrats.

Stassen told a Republican rally in Detroit Tuesday night that the Democratic candidate "cannot furnish the essential leadership" for the crucial years ahead. He said Truman had come to Detroit the day before "as a complaining candidate for election seeking Labor's vote."

The former Minnesota Governor said that by removing "major wartime controls" in 1945, Truman set up the inflationary spiral as well as an "all-time record of strikes and work stoppages."

The President ignored the bipartisan foreign policy when he did not take a Republican to the Potsdam Conference then, Stassen said, calling that Big-Three meeting a "colossal failure for the United States."

Hayworth-Welles Split Final In November

NEW YORK (AP)—Film actress Rita Hayworth said Tuesday her California divorce from actor-writer-producer Orson Welles will become final in November and "there is no possible reconciliation." She returned aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth from a three-month European holiday.

SOCIALISM NO CURE

NEITHER NEW ZEALAND, AUSTRALIA, nor Great Britain—in each of which a Labor government is in control—seems able to solve those problems which are constantly recurring between employer and employee. This means that the root of most of the industrial troubles at the moment is to be found partly in the desire of Capital to earn greater dividends and partly in Labor's propensity to seek more pay for less work. This may be putting the issue crudely; but ample evidence persists in English-speaking and other countries to support this general contention.

How to reconcile the situation is a question which is still baffling those even in industries where relationships between employee and employer are of the most helpful and cordial kind. Unfortunately, it is that element of Capital which is classified as fair and that element of Labor which wants to do the right thing that are compelled to suffer in public esteem through the actions of the opportunists on both sides.

Labor troubles in the southern dominions naturally have had serious effects on the national economies. And it is notable that the Socialists of Canada have begun to pitch their references to the state of affairs in both New Zealand and Australia in a minor key. We do not know what the national and provincial leaders of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation think of the latest developments which are causing a great deal of concern to the Coal Board of Great Britain in respect of a "go slow" system introduced into one of the important Welsh coal mines in Carmarthenshire. The case in question found its way into the Llanelli County Court recently. Three miners, whose output fell 30 to 40 per cent in a week, were ordered to pay the National Coal Board £40 17s damages and costs. The representative of the government body, incidentally, told the court that the accused' dereliction of duty was so flagrant that even the Miners' Union refused to support them in the litigation involved.

And it should be further noted that at Monday's session of the annual convention of Great Britain's Trades Union Congress, representing as it does nearly 8,000,000 workers, one of the resolutions endorsed reflected the concern of Labor leaders over such wildcat strikes as that which tied up the port of London a few months ago. One of the speakers did not mince matters when she called upon her fellow unionists to work harder and work longer—an exhortation which apparently did not go down very well with some of the delegates present.

Although Canada has not yet experimented in Socialistic government in the national field, nor is there any likelihood that Canadians will be inclined to duplicate Saskatchewan's adventure, labor troubles in the Dominion have been kept to a reasonable minimum. But this more or less satisfactory condition does not entitle our people to be complacent by any manner of means. For example, two or three men in union circles in British Columbia are pressing for still further increases in the hourly wage of those engaged in this province's forest industry. Mr. Ernest Dalskog, B.C. president of the International Woodworkers of America, and Mr. Harold Pritchett, vice-president of the same organization, are the chief spokesmen for this great body of workers whose labors give them an excellent livelihood and contribute substantially to the province's export business. They are cheered on the sidelines by Mr. Harvey Murphy, formerly Chernikovsky, and neither of the three blushes when he is labeled Communist. Since the Conciliation Board, under Mr. Justice Bird, has adjourned its hearings on this case until Sept. 16, it would be gratuitous on our part to guess the outcome. But it is well to know that Mr. Pritchett nearly three months ago appealed to I.W.A. members for a strike fund of $100,000—a move which suggested neither a co-operative nor a conciliatory state of mind.

In another part of this page appears a cartoon by the London Daily Mirror's brilliant artist, Zec, which would seem to supply such further comment as might be required to elaborate the various events to which we have referred. Perhaps one day, by some new economic alchemy, Capital and Labor will finally decide that their interests are really interdependent and that they should and must get along together amicably and sensibly.

FELT FAR AFIELD

THE INTEGRATION OF MODERN industrial and commercial life is such that a breakdown of facilities in one part of the system may be felt in many unexpected quarters. The New York truck strike, for instance, now in its eighth day, is causing upsets in varied activities of the metropolis which would not readily occur to the casual observer. The delay in cardboard deliveries, for example, is creating a shortage of milk containers made of that material, which in turn is causing a serious situation among milk consumers. A decrease in the size of some New York newspapers, on the other hand, may be traced to the hold-up of newsprint deliveries as a result of the stoppage. And there can be little doubt that a continuation of the walkout will make itself felt in scores of phases of the city's life. A strike to effect one purpose can create a multitude of other problems—a fact that should be interpreted as a responsibility, rather than an opportunity, by those who may feel obliged to resort to such an economic weapon.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH

AS SUCCESSIVE RUSSIAN CITIZENS emerge from behind the silence of the Soviet borders to denounce Communist policy, the police state and totalitarianism in general, one is moved to speculate on the effect such statements must have on the people of the satellite nations—if they are permitted to hear them—who sooner or later may be lured into still closer association with the Kremlin. Reports of the 90 per cent election majorities recorded in the countries where only one political party is allowed to exist are in marked contrast to comments, for instance, such as that of Lt.-Col. Gregory Tokaev, a former Russian air force expert. Col. Tokaev, who recently fled the Russian sector of Berlin, said in London: "Give the Russian people just one day of Hyde Park, just one chance at speaking their minds in public, one free election in the sense that Great Britain knows it, and I am quite sure 90 per cent of them will go against the Politburo."

His assessment of the size of the majority, of course, may be viewed in the light of his relief at accomplishing a successful escape and the resultant expansiveness of attitude. But there can be little doubt that many millions of Russians—quite apart from the millions known to be in slave labor camps—must secretly harbor bitter resentment against the tyranny under which they exist. They lack only opportunity to give their resentment expression—an opportunity which Col. Tokaev, like the Soviet school teachers in New York and others, has made for himself.

NOT SOLOMON'S WISDOM

WITH THE PARTICULARS OF THE dispute between Mr. E. A. Lucas and the press of Vancouver, we are not concerned. Nor are we disturbed by his allegations that the three newspapers of that city "have rent their garments in their usual union, and raised their age-old bitter cry against law and lawyers" because they feel that "there are too many lawyers and that they afflict the land like locusts, and so forth."

Mr. Lucas is entitled to make his own reply to the charge he has cited. But his training and experience should have taught him to be specific. He adds little dignity to his profession when he draws an analogy between the press in general and an organ-grinder's monkey who was cross because he had to listen continually to the same tune. Writing in the Vancouver Bar Association's publication, The Advocate, he comments: "In this limited sense only, of course, newspapermen are like organ-grinder's monkeys: when they have to dance and chatter so often to the same tiresome old tune about lawyers, it makes them very cross and sarcastic."

Nor is the cause of precision advanced when he adds that

"The overwhelming majority of people in difficulty and danger, through having done wrong or having been wronged, when their affairs have become so tangled that they are unable to straighten them out without help; when they require entirely trustworthy guidance, they turn at once to lawyers for help, not to newspapermen. . . . And not once in a thousand times do we fail them."

Mr. Lucas might be surprised to learn how often people in those straits turn to newspapermen—how the legal profession itself, in its public relations campaign to improve and expand the contact between ordinary citizens and itself, has called for and received, without fee, the aid of the press in its legitimate efforts.

It should be unnecessary to state that the press of Canada has a wholesome respect for the law and for those who practice it in an upright manner. Leave the dancing and chattering to the authentic organ-grinder's monkey, Mr. Lucas. That is part of his act.

ONLY ONE WAY

THE HARD FACTS OF ECONOMIC LAW—not hopes, promises or theories—were placed before organized labor by Sir Stafford Cripps yesterday when he said, "There is only one way by which we can with a given volume of employment increase our real standard of living and that is by each of us producing more, or in other words putting up our productivity. There is no other answer." With these words, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, who is in charge of Britain's economic recovery, put the problem squarely before his listeners, the Trades Union Congress. And it was a statement of fact that holds true not only in Britain but in every country of the world. The only lasting method of obtaining more is to produce more.

It may be difficult for an individual workman to perceive how his small contribution to the national income can affect the cost of living. But his work is a component of the whole. Added to that of others like him, it forms the total for his union, and the unions' contributions add up to the output of an industry. But if a country does not produce enough shoes, for example, to serve the needs of its population (or other goods with which to buy shoes from its neighbors), no amount of juggling of the wage scale, of union demands, or of government directives will keep the people shod. And it is only by producing more shoes than they need (or some other commodity) that a nation can obtain a surplus with which to purchase oranges, or radios or other foreign goods contributing to a fuller life. A country in such a condition will have a high standard of living—to be enjoyed by each individual, who will contribute to it by producing his utmost.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP
HOW NOT TO MAKE POLICY

THE EARLY EVACUATION of the American zone of Korea was quietly voted by the National Security Council about a month ago. The more honest U.S. State and Defence Department policy-makers frankly admit that the decision's ultimate effect will be to throw all of Korea into the expanding Soviet Empire. Under the circumstances, this remarkable decision, taken without any public discussion of the grave issues involved and only now disclosed, deserves rather careful study.

Superficially, the decision is in order. Under the U.N. settlement, the United States and the Soviet Union are to withdraw their troops from their Korean zones within 90 days of the establishment of working governments in each zone.

BUT IN FACT, BOTH the recent decision of the National Security Council, and the American management of the Korean problem in the U.N., were the result of a debate among the American strategists and planners over whether Korea was worth holding at all.

The conclusion that Korea was not worth holding was reached on three grounds. The occupation costs in the American zone of Korea amount to between $200 and $300 million a year. The army can ill afford the 24,000 troops now on garrison duty in Korea. And from the standpoint of straight military strategy, Okinawa and the Japanese islands are positions of equal, if not greater value.

THESE ARE PRACTICAL considerations of high importance. They are not very frankly admitted, however. A good many of the responsible policy makers even speciously argue that perhaps the South Korean regime of Dr. Syngman Rhee will be able to maintain its independence after all. Certain measures to this end are being taken. Before the final evacuation, for example, the American garrison will recruit and train a South Korean constabulary of 40,000 men or more. When the American garrison departs, it will leave its arms behind. And the South Koreans may perhaps be assisted by an American military mission.

But the facts show that these measures are mere gestures, which one suspects are primarily designed to save face. The South Korean government is relatively feeble and troubled by a serious problem of Communist infiltration.

IN NORTH KOREA the Soviets have set up an efficient puppet regime. This regime has at its disposal no mere constabulary, but a full dress army variously estimated to number from 60,000 to 250,000 men. The best guess is that the North Korean forces actually total 125,000.

Furthermore, as the expense of American occupation indicates, South Korea is not economically self-sustaining. The South Koreans cannot hope to feed themselves.

With the exception of one small power plant, their entire power supply comes from North Korea. Obviously no government can sustain itself against a strong rival government which controls the main food resources, owns the power plants, and possesses three times more military force. After the American evacuation, the Kremlin can take South Korea if and when it chooses, without moving a single Russian soldier.

THEN IF ONE DIGS DEEPER into the background of the Korean decision, another significant group of facts emerges. The American abandonment of Korea will have an immediate, disastrous psychological and political effect on all the forces of resistance to Communist expansion throughout Asia. Particularly, this will be true in adjacent China, where the National government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek is perilously close to collapse.

Yet this politico-psychological factor was only lightly weighed in the Korean decision, and for a very simple cause.

NOT IN KOREA ONLY, but in China, Burma, Malaya, Siam, Indo-China, the Netherlands Indies and the Philippines, the local Communist parties are hard at work in the open. Their armed efforts in China, Burma and Indo-China, at a minimum, seem quite likely to be successful unless counterpressures are soon to be applied. But paled impotence marks the present approach of the American policy-makers to this whole Asiatic problem, mainly because of the hangover from the petty vanity, political folly and crass disregard for obvious American interests, which characterized American Asiatic policy in wartime.

THE MAIN OBJECTION to the Korea decision is simply that the issue, whether policy is the only possible American Asiatic policy, is going to bulk large in the coming United States political campaign. The Republicans, who are so obviously likely to win, at least want to try to do something about Asia. Perhaps they may fail. Perhaps the evacuation of Korea might even be included in a constructive program. But it seems outrageous to take this crucial decision now, in the prevailing atmosphere of dank defeatism, when such decisions are quite likely to prejudice any future attempt to turn the tide in Asia.

Blood From A Stone

By JOSEPH LISTER RUTLEDGE

THE CONSTANT DEMAND among citizens for more and more looking after must have an end somewhere. This belief is based on the familiar and pertinent wisdom of the saying, "You can't get blood from a stone."

ENDLESS SOURCE

Many politicians and others seem to believe that there is an endless source of revenue to provide for all sorts of dogood actions and services. To run contrary to this popular belief is to be grouped at once with modern-day Scrooges as stony-hearted, selfish, and insensate humans.

For that reason it is difficult to argue the case dispassionately. But there still remains the fact that you can't get blood from a stone that hasn't any, and that you can only take so much from humans until physical or economic death intervenes.

There are inescapable social obligations that no one would want to evade. There are other obligations that we would like to assume as our abilities permit.

As we face those people who are always asking for more, we would like to know how well we have faced up to these obligations and how much more we might be expected to do. We are using some figures presented in a bulletin of the Council of Social Service of the Church of England in Canada.

GOVERNMENT FIGURES

They are government figures, and we quote them from the Council because no one would suspect it of urging our private advantage against our responsibilities.

It is not they but we who suggest that the figures might make us stop and consider before we go blithely about the business of demanding more and more of a burdened citizenship. The various charges grouped together represent an average annual toll of $286 on every family in Canada.

Now go a little farther and remember that the Dominion Bureau of Statistics records that in 1946 there were a little better than two and a half million Canadians who paid income tax on incomes over $660. The total was just short of five billion dollars. This, quite obviously, is the group that must carry the bulk of the load for the social services. And the load represents 15 per cent of their income as adjusted for taxation purposes.

We used to remember that 10 per cent of a total income "given to the Lord" was considered reasonable and just. Admittedly there are other factors entering into the case, but, despite these, the fact remains that we are doing a lot with our available resources.

PAUSE AND CONSIDER

Before we demand more, and add more charges to the close to a billion dollars which social services are now costing us, we should pause and consider. In 1946 the total earnings of the whole working force of Canada were just $9,617,000,000. It might just be possible for a nation to socialize itself into bankruptcy.

Wallace And The Facts Of Life

By JAMES THRASHER, From New York

HENRY A. WALLACE shares with most of the "common men" of this war-torn and weary world a desire for peace. But his apparent desire for peaceful surrender at any price is not shared by many freedom-loving people, including, we imagine, a majority of his fellow Americans.

SWEET REASON

It is Mr. Wallace's theory that the differences between the United States and the Soviet Union were made in America by war-hungry politicians and militarists and money-hungry financiers. It is his theory that these differences arise from a conflict between systems of thought which can be dissolved by sweet reason. If elected president, he promises to take sweet reason into a conference with Premier Stalin and quickly erase all threat of war.

This would be a splendid prescription, and if it did not collide so violently with fact it could probably get him elected almost unanimously. But Mr. Wallace so consistently overlooks the conflict between the facts and his preconceived theories that the whole case for his candidacy seems to vanish like snowflakes that melt when they first touch solid ground.

Mr. Wallace displayed this optimistic but uncertain manner of thinking again in his half-hearted brush-off of Communist support.

His declaration was evidently an answer to Rex Tugwell, one of his chief supporters, who had said he would leave the Wallace party if Communists were allowed to run it.

The third-party candidate did not repudiate Communist support. He said he "did not want" the support of any group that believes in the violent overthrow of our government or that "puts their allegiance to some foreign capital first—whether it is Moscow or any other place." But he made it clear that he did not think there were many Communists among his followers who were guilty on either count.

CONFESSED IGNORANCE

Mr. Wallace has often confessed ignorance of Communist doctrine and vague knowledge of Communist policy. He has also, in the case of the Czechoslovakian coup, made it clear that he suspects the U.S. press of anti-red fabrications.

But his declaration contained some positive and amazing statements. "There is as much variation in the beliefs of Communists as in the beliefs of Democrats and Republicans," he said. (Remember Earl Browder, Mr. Wallace?) "I doubt if any Marxists today are as violent as Lincoln and Jefferson were in their day."

Through all this vagueness it appears that Mr. Wallace is concerned only with the field of thought and blind to any accompanying action. Perhaps, to many, the democratic principles of Jefferson and Lincoln's anti-slavery stand seemed as radical as Marx's philosophy did to a later generation. But can Mr. Wallace forget that there were no secret police under Jefferson, or that the Lincoln administration conducted no purge trials and set up no one-party system?

Mr. Wallace says that both the communistic and the capitalistic "systems of thought" have "very powerfully gripped the imaginations of a great many people."

He grants that there is a conflict between them. But he dismisses any possible armed clash that might result as a "religious war," and says he is trying to prevent it because he doesn't like religious wars.

CONFLICT OF IDEAS

Being a man of peace, Mr. Wallace probably would have disliked the conflict of ideas that led to the "religious war" for American independence. But unless the sacred writings of Marx have been secretly disregarded, the Communist goal is still world revolution—and with it no freedom of thought or speech, no freedom from want or from fear.

The evidence of that is found in the Soviet-dominated countries of the world today. And it is that evidence which Mr. Wallace steadfastly refuses to see or to believe.

Production Is The Only Answer

By R. J. DEACHMAN

THE proposals laid down at the recent C.C.F. convention have no relationship whatever to the problems before the people of Canada. The issue is clear: will government-owned industries produce more or less cost?

PURE WASTE

If they will the idea is worthy of consideration. If they will not then it is a pure waste of effort. The facts are inescapable. The suggested remedies of the C.C.F. have been tried in different countries. There is scant evidence to suggest that they responded to the needs of the hour.

The two countries which lead the world in agricultural and industrial production are the United States and Canada. They have stuck closely to private enterprise and have accepted government ownership only in exceptional circumstances.

COSTS UP

The cost of living is going up. Industrial workers and others call for higher wages. They escape the burden of higher costs, they pass it on to others less able to bear it. The C.C.F. proposes certain remedies. They are causes not cures. Their acceptance would make conditions worse, not better.

It is profoundly regrettable that it should be so. There is a freshness and vitality about the C.C.F. which ought to be of some value to the country, but it has its eyes fixed upon power. That means votes. It wants subsidies to keep down prices and wage increases to raise prices.

GREATER PRODUCTION

The real hope of the world lies in greater production, not only per man-hour, because this can be completely offset by a reduction of hours, but greater production per man-year—that means an increased national income, greater wealth for all.

Global Survey

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Analyst

THIS OLD WORLD of ours is the melting-pot for a weird mixture of humanity.

Everywhere forces of the "left" and of the "right" are at each others' throats, while unhappy "centrists" battle to keep the pendulum from swinging too far in either direction.

It needs only a quick appraisal to make it clear that virtually the whole globe is involved in a tremendous social upheaval. It takes a deal more study to enable one to hazard a guess as to where we are headed.

What set your correspondent off on this speculative line of thought was the ascension to the Netherlands throne by Queen Juliana in place of her mother, Queen Wilhelmina, who abdicated because of the weight of years after half a century's reign. It was a moving ceremony, in the presence of European royalty—and it undoubtedly was surrounded by the deep respect and love of the Dutch people as a whole for their royal house.

PICTURE CHANGING

Well now, how does Netherlands royalty (or any constitutional monarchy, for that matter) fit into the picture of our changing world? We can't forget, of course, that unrest is seething in Holland's rich East Indies, some of which want complete severance from the mother country. That being so, our question calls for a double-barrelled answer.

If the Netherlands themselves want (as they do) a constitutional monarchy with a parliamentary system, there is no clash with democracy in that. Parliament rules. However, the time is rapidly passing when a nation can impose its rule on people of another race. Empires are on their way out—and fast. Thus Juliana comes to her throne at a moment when her empire is breaking up. Perhaps the East Indies may become part of a Dutch commonwealth, but their days as colonies certainly are finished.

That same thing can be said of Britain. She herself has recognized the changing times and has granted both India and Burma their independence. She retains colonies, to be sure, but they will become independent in due course. Meantime, however, Britain herself likes her Royal House, which thus far hasn't presented any ideological problem for her Labor government.

DON'T MIX

Of course royalty and the extreme political left don't mix. Here is may be said that a totalitarian party can be quite as oppressive as an absolute monarch.

However, both the Netherlands and Britain at the moment are politically close to the middle of the road, and they find no inconsistency in maintaining royal houses. The same is true of most of the other constitutional monarchies of Europe today. The autocracies have been ditched.

This trend among the constitutional monarchies naturally can't be taken as conclusive of what the future will produce. However, we might not be far out in concluding that the global political trend is towards a middle-of-the-road set-up in which all hands will get a fair break.

COMPROMISE

Toronto Globe and Mail
The North Battleford (Sask.) News, commenting on the coast-to-coast demand for a Trans-Canada Highway, observes that "when public opinion gets consolidated on a great national problem, it generally takes on concrete form." Generally, But most of us would settle for a good stretch of black-top.

MORE EFFORT

London (Ont.) Free Press
In the field of production alone, a greater effort by workers on this side of the Atlantic would do more than any other single contribution towards stabilizing prices and wages—towards bringing a halt to the not-so-merry-go-round whirl of wage demands, shortages and the ever-increasing cost of living.

WELL DESERVED

Another seven men, members of the Canadian Seamen's Union, convicted in Ontario courts of acts of violence committed during incidents of the lake strike have been sentenced to jail or prison for terms ranging from four months to two years. An eighth was convicted and remanded for sentence. The punishments may sound severe for acts arising from a labor dispute, but they are none too heavy. Only such exemplary punishment seems likely to check the campaign of terrorism on which the C.S.U. has embarked to win its demands.

Canadian Press, Canada's Largest Co-operative News Agency Moves Into New Home

After 32 years of renting, Canada's co-operative news agency, the Canadian Press moved into its own home last week-end. Big job of transferring lines was the task facing Marcus W. Bradbury, shown here, traffic superintendent. He had to rush to make important changeover to new building in Toronto.

Head man of the complex news-gathering agency, Gillis Purcell, general manager, was appointed in 1945, is credited with great growth of organization.

New building is almost first thing Canadian Press has ever owned. It was run at first on the principle that it should own nothing itself. Everything it used was owned by the co-operating newspapers or was rented. Canadian papers pay an annual assessment to meet expenses.—(S.N.S. Photos)

Wiegner To Face Trial In Strange Northland Killing

POUCE COUPE, B.C. (CP)—Bespokened Gustav Wiegner of Dayton, Ohio, left for Vancouver under guard today to await trial on a charge of murdering John C. McComas, his 52-year-old townsman, whose body was left in a lonely spot beside the Alaska Highway two weeks ago.

The 24-year-old salesman was committed for trial Tuesday by Magistrate Martin S. Morrell of this Peace River town after he had conducted his own defence at a one-day preliminary hearing.

The hearing was highlighted by testimony of 13-year-old Louise McComas, daughter of the slain man, who accompanied her father and Wiegner on the motor trip along the highway. Previously reticent about details of her father's death, the girl said Wiegner had been "unnecessarily rough" with her after the shooting.

TELLS OF HUNTING

Wiegner claimed McComas died accidentally while the two men were hunting squirrels and that he had fled, panic-stricken, after hiding the body, taking the girl with him. The pair reported the shooting to police at Kimball, Neb., nine days later.

The scholarly-looking Wiegner steadfastly maintained his innocence. "I didn't commit any crime and I have profited nothing from the episode, nor will I gain anything in the future," he said, moving unsuccessfully for dismissal of the murder charge.

Under cross-examination, Louise confirmed that Wiegner had left her father's money in her charge and that he had not behaved improperly toward her after McComas' death.

The girl said Wiegner's "unnecessary roughness" came immediately after she had heard two shots fired in the deep bush by the side of the highway.

When Wiegner emerged from the bush, Louise asked him where her father was. "He called me by name and put his hand on my shoulder and when I screamed he slapped me twice and hit me hard once," she said.

"Then took me to a log and sat me down."

Wiegner had later tied a rope around her wrist before telling her he had shot her father. He told her it had been an accident.

"He said, 'Louise.' Then he made me take off my sweater. He tied a rope around my wrist so I couldn't get away. Then he kissed me. I knew there was something wrong. He kissed me, but he didn't force any improper conduct on me."

HANDS GUN

After showing her the body, she said, Wiegner handed her his gun and told her to remove the bullets. The girl quoted him as saying he might have to shoot her "to avoid going to jail."

She said that when Wiegner took her by the arm and took her to where the body of her father lay, "I knelt down beside him and he was dead... he had his hands in his pockets."

As Louise and Wiegner were getting into the car, another car came along and stopped, Louise said. They asked about a camping place and Wiegner told them there was a good place two miles farther down the road.

When they started off, Wiegner, she said, suggested to the girl that they continue to Alaska, where her father had intended putting her in a school.

"I didn't want to go to Alaska because I didn't know anybody there," she said. "We turned the car around and drove all night."

"When we came through the border at Coutts (Alta.) I sat in the car and Mr. Wiegner did the talking."

Wiegner sat nervously as the gruesome evidence of the body, badly torn by wolves, was exhibited.

He will be held at the Oakalla prison farm, near Vancouver, pending his trial by a higher court. Date and location of the trial have not yet been set.

St. Laurent Urges Democracies Unite Against Aggression

TORONTO (CP)—Organization of the forces of the free democracies to ensure collective resistance to aggression was urged here by External Affairs Minister St. Laurent.

He told the directors' luncheon at the Canadian National Exhibition Tuesday that "such collective action, even if at the beginning only on a regional basis, is urgent and necessary."

"The threat of aggressive and expansionist Communism, harnessed to the ambitions of a great power, is too great, to direct and too immediate for us to do nothing until all the freedom-loving nations reach agreement to act together," he said.

"That is why the Canadian government has been urging at home and abroad, in public statements, and through diplomatic channels and discussions the immediate establishment of a North Atlantic security system, comprised of the United Kingdom, the United States, Canada and the free countries of western Europe."

"We think such a system could create and maintain the necessary preponderance of defensive force over any possible adversary or combination of aggressive adversaries."

It was Mr. St. Laurent's first important speech since his selection as national Liberal leader.

Earlier in his speech Mr. St. Laurent noted that the United Nations "is our present vehicle for universal and organized co-operation."

More Opportunities For Health Building As School Begins

By CANADIAN PRESS

With school days here again, the subject of "school children's health" is brought to the attention of businessmen by the current monthly letter of the Royal Bank of Canada.

"It is at the school that for the first time every child's health can be assessed and deficiencies corrected," says the letter.

"There, if anywhere, is our golden opportunity for constructive work in building a healthy Canada."

"The only limitations on health progress in any age are the bounds set by the growth of scientific knowledge, the willingness of those in authority to introduce advanced ideas, and the readiness of people to pay the cost—a price which is low relative to the resulting good..."

"Progress has been made, but our achievements and practice fall far short of our ideals and knowledge... What we need today is a gripping sense of the possibilities of healthful living, and to get away from dependence upon the reduction of death rates."

More Electricity For Okanagan Districts

The Peachland-Westbank area of the Okanagan is to receive electricity from the B.C. Power Commission's new hydro plant at Whatshan Lake.

Premier Byron Johnson said today the government has approved spending $78,800 to lay a submarine cable across Okanagan Lake from the power plant. The cable will stretch between Kelowna and Westbank.

The area already is served by the Shuswap Falls power system, but requires additional service.

In addition to the installing of the cable, the Premier announced the B.C. Power Commission will take over the electric plant at Chase Village at the west end of Shuswap Lake. The plant is being purchased for $10,927 from Carlin Brothers and the distribution system will be linked to the Kamloops power supply by Oct. 1 next year.

B.C. Municipalities Pass 14 Resolutions At Meeting

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS (CP)—Twenty-three resolutions, more than one-third of the agenda, were disposed of Tuesday by the delegates to the 45th annual convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities.

Of these, 14 were passed, eight were defeated and one was withdrawn. Eleven other resolutions were referred to special committees.

The union went on record as opposing payment to municipalities "of at least 50 per cent" of all amounts received from the provincial government's 25 per cent amusement tax. The resolution, submitted by the city of Victoria, asked payment on a per capita basis since municipalities provide police and fire protection and other services in respect of places of amusement.

Mayor Percy George of Victoria said: "We feel that if we provide all services from which the tax revenue is taken... municipalities should have some of that money."

DISCUSS READING MATTER

The Attorney-General will be asked to take up with the minister of justice the possibility of establishing a system of censorship of salacious literature and crime comic magazines. The resolution to this effect was submitted by Saanich district.

Reeve E. E. Warren of Saanich told the convention "the irony of the situation is that newsstands must take a number of salacious and crime magazines. I have been given to understand it is compulsory to take some in order to get the better books."

The municipalities also will urge the provincial government to use its power in having remunerations to elected representatives, up to $1,000, exempted from federal income tax.

The district of Burnaby, which presented the resolution, said the remunerations, authorized under the Municipal Act, are used by the elected representatives mainly to cover expenses in connection with their business.

MILLER'S VIEWS

The resolution met with opposition from Vancouver's delegation.

"It is true members of the house got $2,500 indemnity exempt from income tax," acting

Mayor George Miller said. "But it is not playing the game to be asked to be exempted from something your fellow citizens have to pay."

The three-day convention, which opened Tuesday, also resolved that the federal government be asked to loan funds to municipalities at a maximum 2 per cent interest for extension or renewal of self-liquidating utilities; that municipalities be empowered to control and prevent the shooting of firearms; that the Public School Act be amended to exclude municipal property from expropriation by the school board.

Society of Residential Appraisers, Chicago, wrote City Council today, requesting attendance of a Victoria city representative at a convention at Harrison Hot Springs, Oct. 2.

Final Canadian Summer Holiday Week-End Blessed By Sunshine

TORONTO (CP)—Labor Day was warm and sunny across most of the Dominion and Canadians enjoyed the summer's last holiday week-end at trade union picnics, sports events, summer resorts — or just relaxing at home.

Highways leading to Toronto were jammed with tourists from the United States and other parts of Canada coming to the Canadian National Exhibition.

At the big fair, trade unionists gathered to hear a plea for unity in labor ranks from A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, and the advice of Percy R. Bengough, head of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada that the best protection against Communism "is to see that democracy operates in the best interests of all citizens."

At Montreal, as in Toronto, thousands attended International League baseball games. Eight thousand attended the Blue Bonnets race track in Montreal. Halifax stevedores and their families held a mass picnic at Mount Uniacke, 18 miles out of the city. Baseball and horse racing were main attractions for those who stayed in town.

Thousands of Ottawa civil servants took advantage of the last holiday before they resume their six-day weekly schedule suspended during the summer months.

Beaches and golf courses were crowded in the Winnipeg district. Others attended Scottish games at Polo Park. Some 5,000 workers attended a Winnipeg Labor Council picnic.

Calgarians had a choice of watching the Webster Trophy Air Show finals, a soap box derby, model automobile races, or the Alberta golf open.

There were no parades in Edmonton and the Western Canada motorcycle championships topped the sports program.

Southern British Columbia revelled in sunshine during the week-end as thousands of Vancouverites donned bathing suits long idle through inclement summer weather. Record crowds attended Vancouver's Exhibition Park race meet, a doubleheader baseball game and the Western Canada Women's softball championship.

Soldiers Helping In Harvesting

Farmers across the country are getting a "military" boost with their harvesting. But military authorities explained today that it's a touch of homesickness and a genuine liking for the farm—not the high cost of living—that is responsible for large numbers of soldiers taking evening and week-end jobs on farms bordering camps where they are stationed.

They said they had no objection to soldiers helping the farmers in their spare time.

Eire Sweeps Out Its Communists, Says Premier Costello

OTTAWA (CP)—Eire—"more Catholic than Italy"—has swept out its Communists, Prime Minister Costello told a press conference here Tuesday.

The nation now feared no unrest, no political strife, such as befell the country in which the Vatican is located.

Mr. Costello envisaged a great, new Ireland of the future, constructed with the aid of a United States loan of $85,000,000 under the Marshall Plan.

The country would be independent of the British Crown, yet "friendly and working in association with Commonwealth nations," he told members of the Parliamentary Press Gallery.

Willing to co-operate in the maintenance of the sterling area, Eire was nevertheless troubled with a serious shortage of U.S. dollars. Her greatest need was a loan or a grant of U.S. currency.

If the United States would loan Eire the $85,000,000, she would be "very able" to repay the loan, Mr. Costello said.

One other problem was that of partition, which was "forced on Ireland by the British Parliament in 1928." Partition must, end, said Mr. Costello, before Ireland could become a strong, independent nation.

Eire—which remained neutral during the Second World War—would not consider entering a defence pact with the countries of western Europe, if partition is not ended, the 57-year-old premier said.

Many of the people in the north of Ireland already wanted partition to end. This must be brought about by an act of British Parliament.

Head Office Of CP In Toronto Occupies Its New Building

TORONTO (CP)—Head office of the Canadian Press now is in its new home.

The heart of Canada's national news agency is operating from a modern two-story building in downtown Toronto, built in eight months at a cost of $250,000.

Late Saturday the 11,000-mile wire system linking the CP's 13 Canadian bureau with its 93 newspaper members was hooked to teletypes in the new building's newsroom at 55 University Avenue. A major wiring job, involving 15,000 separate connections and the routing of 15 miles of wire within the building itself, had been completed during two months of advance work supervised by traffic chief M. W. Bradbury. The actual switching of the news flow from CP's previous quarters in the Metropolitan Building was a matter of minutes.

The new building is a stone-fronted structure of reinforced concrete which will house the CP, its radio subsidiary, Press News Ltd., and the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association. Its foundations provide for eventual addition of third and fourth stories.

The structure was designed by Mathers and Haldenby of Toronto and built by the Foundation Company of Ontario Ltd.

Previous homes of the CP's head office were rented quarters.

Price Reductions Ended By British Co-operatives

LONDON (CP)—The funeral dirge for the British co-operatives' "noble experiment" grew louder today.

There is every indication that the co-operatives are tired of being alone in reducing prices to consumers. After Sir Stafford Cripps' appeal to the country to go easy on spending, co-operatives, with a burst of publicity, cut their store prices on bread, margarine, sugar and associated products.

The co-operatives said they expected the government would back up its policies and see a check was imposed on general wage increases. They expected other stores also to reduce prices.

They expected that trade unionists—many of them patrons of co-operative stores—would not embarrass the co-operatives' program by demanding wage increases for their employees.

UNIONS MAKE REPLY

Now the whole gloomy story is being told in the co-operatives' charges of non-co-operation and the unions reply that co-operatives appear to have been playing a dubious game designed to keep down wages.

On the sidelines for the moment, the government awaits the visit of co-operative officials who, with the backing of influential Labor members of parliament, will ask what the administration proposes to do.

Meanwhile, the Leeds Industrial Co-operative Society has told its 139,000 members that the cuts in prices introduced in April are to end.

Co-operatives are almost as important as trade unions in creating and maintaining the Labor government. Sir Stafford and his colleagues now are in the delicate position that their two staunchest allies have quarrelled and they may have to decide which is in the right.

Travel To Mainland For Honeymoon

In Vancouver on their honeymoon following their marriage Saturday at 8 at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church are John William Shinn and his bride, the former Marion Elizabeth Court. The couple plan to make their home at 616 Garbally Road, on their return.

The bride, a former staff member of the S.D.O. Branch, H.M.C. Naval Dockyard, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Court, 209 Ontario Street. Her groom, stationed aboard H.M.C.S. Crescent, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Shinn, Vancouver.

White and red carnations and gladioli created the setting for the ceremony performed by Rev. J. L. W. McLean. A white lace yoke enriched the satin gown, made with fitted bodice and full skirt forming a long train, worn by the bride. Red roses, white gardenias, and maiden hair fern, fashioned the bride's bouquet, and she wore a gold pendant set with seed pearls, gift of her groom.

Little Ronnie Durrance acted as train bearer for his cousin.

Identical full-skirted gowns fashioned of mauve taffeta and nylon were worn by bridesmaids, Miss Catherine Court, sister of the bride and Miss Violet Ball. Their mauve net headresses were trimmed with sequins. Pale green taffeta created the gown for honor maid Miss Phyllis Ball, who wore a matching net headress trimmed with sequins.

Mauve and yellow gladioli with maiden hair fern composed their bouquets.

Jack Carr of Vancouver was best man. Guests were seated by Bill Court and Bud Fell.

Mrs. Court and Mrs. Shinn received guests with the bride and groom at a reception at Seamen's Institute, Superior Street. Toast to the bride was proposed by her uncle, Jack McDonald, Tacoma, Wash.

When the couple left on their wedding trip the bride was wearing a gabbardine suit in fuchsia with black accessories.

Janet M. Robinson Wears Bridal Blue

Rev. J. C. A. Barton officiated at the double ring ceremony, Sept. 1, which united in marriage Janet M. Robinson and Henry G. Moerman. Pink and white gladioli decorated Douglas Street Baptist Church for the occasion.

The bride, who wore an azure suit with accessories in grey and carried a bouquet of roses and carnations, with maiden hair fern, is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Robinson, Prospect Lake.

She was attended by Miss Dorothy Jeeves, whose suit was of mist grey. She wore wine accessories and carried a bouquet of asters.

The groom, eldest son of Mrs. J. Moerman, Kamloops, and the late G. Moerman, chose as best man his brother Jerry Moerman. Henry G. Robinson, brother of the bride, and Duke Hay, acted as ushers.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. Catherine Dash sang "I'll Walk Beside You."

A reception was held in Strathcona Hotel. Mrs. Robinson, mother of the bride, and Mrs. C. Pendray, in the absence of the groom's mother, received guests with the couple.

A three-tier wedding cake, decorated by the bride's mother, centred the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Moerman plan to make their home in California.

Helen Rowland, Laverne Atkinson United In Marriage

Gladioli, dahlias and asters in pastel hues decorated Centennial United Church for the early evening service Saturday which united in marriage Helen Elizabeth Rowland, daughter of W. C. Rowland, 586 Whiteside Street, and the late Mrs. Rowland, and Laverne Frederick Atkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Atkinson, 813 Darwin Road.

Rev. W. R. Ashford officiated at the double ring service. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore traditional white satin, the full skirt trailing a long train. A high neckline featured a net yoke edged in quilted satin flowers and embroidered with seed pearls, and the long sleeves were pointed over the wrists. Her full length veil was held with a scalloped halo headress, and she carried a bouquet of white gladioli and pink rosebuds.

A pale blue gown made with bodice of satin, and full net skirt draped with satin, was worn by honor matron Mrs. June Robertson, sister of the bride. Misses Betty Rickman and Barbara Warnock as bridesmaids, wore similarly styled gowns in palest of pink.

They carried arm bouquets of gladioli in yellow and mauve, and wore shoulder-length veils in matching colors, held with tiaras of velvet flowers.

Nieces of the bride, Donna Robertson and Linda Heaslip, were gowned alike in yellow moire taffeta picture gowns, for their roles as flower girls. In their hair, they wore tiaras of matching material edged with velvet flowers, and carried posies of yellow azalea, chrysanthemums and mauve asters.

Glen Atkinson, nephew of the groom, was soloist. Guests were seated by Melburn Little and Robert Bentham.

Bernard Leahy, best man, proposed the toast to the bride at a reception held at 2031 Runnymede Avenue. Parents of the couple stood with them before an arch decorated with pastel flowers and centred with white wedding bells, to receive the 150 guests.

Later the bride changed to a maroon gabbardine suit with three-quarter length topcoat in grey gabbardine and corsage bouquet of pale pink rosebuds, for the wedding trip to United States. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson will reside at 586 Whiteside Street.

St. John's Church was decorated with red and white gladioli, dahlias and cosmos, and lighted by tapers in white candelabra for the double ring ceremony performed by Rev. George Biddle.

A reception followed at Orange Hall, where grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Waites, 1629 Camosun Street, and parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Noel, 1429 Richardson Street, assisted in receiving guests.

Young Canadian Author To Lecture At University

MONTREAL (CP)—Acclaimed by critics as a writer of promise, 25-year-old Constance Beresford-Howe of Montreal, has been appointed lecturer in the Department of English at McGill University. She is one of the youngest women to hold this post at the university.

Her first novel, "The Unreasoning Heart," which won a Dodd-Mead Literary Fellowship in 1946, has claimed recognition for her as a full-fledged novelist.

Miss Beresford-Howe will be given charge of a new course in creative English when college sessions open next month.

For the last two years she has been studying at Brown University at Providence, R.I., for her degree as a doctor of philosophy which she hopes to complete this winter as a sideline to lectures. She graduated from McGill in 1945 as a gold medalist in English literature and received her master's degree there the following year.

In an interview the attractive brunette said today that she attributes literary success to a 50-50 balance between inspiration and hard work.

"The first stage of writing a story, the flash of an idea which excites you in the beginning, is fun," she said.

"The difficult part comes after the inspiration, when you start to block out your idea. A good story must be built up from the ground and not allowed to grow haphazardly, like an octopus."

She listed the qualities of a writer as imagination, maturity of mind, humor, perseverance and discipline.

"Only books with lasting human values, not events insignificant in themselves, will live," she said.

She was optimistic about the future of Canadian literature.

"Wider education is improving the general taste for good books and the catalogue of distinguished authors in the Dominion is growing," she said.

Shell hard-cooked eggs under running water, say the experts. As soon as the egg is cooked, cool it immediately under running water to loosen the shell, prevent overcooking and make handling easier. Crack the shell by tapping against a hard edge or with a spoon, then loosen it by rolling the egg between the hands. Hold the egg under water and begin peeling at the large end where there is an air space under the shell. The cold water helps to ease off the shell and washes away any bits left of the white.

Newlyweds Choose Port Renfrew Home

A burgundy wine gabardine suit, with smart model hat to match, worn by Miss Grace Lamont, daughter of Mrs. G. Robertson, 2329 Blanshard Street, and the late Robert Reid Lamont, for her marriage Saturday evening to Tom Staples, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Staples, Easter Road.

Following their honeymoon up-island the couple will travel to Port Renfrew where they will make their home.

Rev. Percy Willis performed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. Later, at a reception for relatives and friends, he gave the toast to the bride.

Given in marriage by her step-father, George Robertson, the bride carried a white prayer book mounted with fragrant gardenias. She was attended by Miss Joyce Taylor, who wore for the occasion a frock of smoke grey wool crepe, with black accessories and corsage bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Bill Fraser stood with the groom as best man.

A two-tier wedding cake, flanked by silver vases of sweetheart roses and heather, and slender candles in silver holders, centred the bride's table, covered with a lace cloth. Mrs. Robertson and Mrs. Staples received guests with the bride and groom.

For Brunch—Little link sausages, delicately browned corn pancakes and skillet-simmered canned cling peach halves taste wonderfully good for a Sunday morning brunch. Simmer the peaches half an hour in a small amount of syrup made with equal parts of syrup from the peaches, brown sugar and granulated sugar with a lump of butter thrown in to round out the flavors.

U.S. Styles Influencing All Paris Shows

NEW YORK (CP)—The United States can take a bow for the change of silhouette at the current Paris fashion openings. So says fashion expert Adelaide Hawley, returning from a flying trip to Paris and London showings.

"The American influence is strongly evident in both London and Paris collections," Mrs. Hawley reports. "For the first time in fashion history, I believe New York this time has led the way in establishing the prevailing silhouette, with Paris designers following."

The Paris-born "new look" which roused the ire of American women last year, has given way for the most part to slim lines and conservative cut, says Miss Hawley. She adds:

"The Empire silhouette is strong in most Paris collections—that is, the high-waisted line which has been seen in American collections for at least two seasons. Claire McCardell was among the first to do it here. "The French achieve the effect sometimes by a deep back yoke with fullness below, springing from about the point of the shoulder blades, or by a very wide midriff starting at the natural waistline and continuing upward to the bust. Balmain uses the latter device in a number of dresses, also achieving the same effect by means of a wide belt mounting high in front, narrowed at the back."

The hobble skirt, which was an early sensation of the New York fall openings, also is seen repeatedly in the Paris collections, says Miss Hawley. She adds:

"Many skirts are tightly banded at the knee, with a flare below, or are banded at the bottom, so the models have to walk with small, mincing steps."

"Jacques Fath shows a hobble skirt with a wide band at the bottom, and also employs the knee-band on some skirts."

"Balmain shows a skin-tight suit skirt with a loose back panel doubled under at the hemline, harem fashion. He also uses a high-waisted, back-buttoned bolero with a sash between the shoulder blades in back, to achieve the Empire silhouette. This is worn over a strapless dress."

"The fringed wool shawl worn instead of a suit jacket, which has been seen in many of the American collections, also appears in the new Paris styles for fall."

Big berets and small, close-fitting cloche hats, already popular in the United States, are among leading fall models shown in Paris millinery, says Miss Hawley. The American fad for higher shoes also is seen in Paris. Fath showed silver boots with hobble skirts.

The only Paris designer clinging firmly to the "new look," she observes, is Christian Dior, its author, who continues to show wide-skirted, doll-waisted styles.

Miss Hawley says she was particularly impressed by the London showings, where slim-skirted suits of well-bred tweeds were shown for country wear, more formal dressmaker suits of smooth woolsens for town. These are being designed principally for export, with the North-American market in mind.

School Days

Actress Donna Reed, beyond the schooling stage, gets into the swing of things and chooses this campus-inspired corduroy skirt and blouse as part of her fall wardrobe. Designed by Stephanie Körét, it is ideal for active college life.

DOMESTIC RECIPROCITY

One of the things that is the matter with marriage is that there is not enough give and take in it. The domestic pattern runs to monopoly, and you will hardly find a family in which there is any real co-operation. Sometimes it is the father who rules the household with a rod of iron. Sometimes it is the tyrannical mother who is she-who-must-be obeyed. Often it is the children who make slaves of their parents.

The point is that there is no team work in the great majority of homes. You rarely see a whole family with the same ambitions and purposes, working shoulder to shoulder in mutual helpfulness. There is no give and take. Each is out for himself, or herself. And that is why there are so many grouchy husbands and peevish and nagging wives, and why so many marriages end in divorce.

One of the basic demands of human nature is for fair play. None of us wants to be the goat. We want a square deal. We want to receive as well as to give, and when we don't get reciprocity, it sours our dispositions. And this goes all the way from unrequited love to not getting your slice of pie.

NEED MUTUAL SPIRIT

No love can survive that is not a mutual passion. When one kisses and the other permits oneself to be kissed, the dream is ended. No husband or wife gets any kick out of doing all of the loving.

Much of the juvenile delinquency that is such a problem now stems back to mothers' unwillingness to give and take. They want to monopolize their children, and they refuse to let even the youngsters' fathers have any part in their rearing. Many a man's heart breaks as he sees a promising child being ruined for life by the jealousy of a silly mother who was not willing to share her darling with even his own father.

Selfish people think that they can acquire happiness by grabbing everything they can get their hands on for themselves, but never was there a greater mistake. For there are very few things that are any fun to do alone. You can't talk to yourself. The best meal lacks flavor if there is nobody across the table from you. And you have no friends because nobody loves a tightwad. You have to give as well as take in friendship, or else you are left alone.

NECESSARY TODAY

Never was the give and take theory so necessary to be put in practice as it is now when the economic upheaval has forced so many housewives into being their own cooks and baby tenders and laundresses. Many of these women are bitterly resentful over being chambermaids instead of parlor ornaments. Many are frail and not really strong enough to do the work they are forced to do. But the thing that adds the final touch of wrath to their grievance is when their husbands refuse to even wipe the dishes.

Th husband's alibi is that cooking and baby-tending is woman's work, not man's. But in this he is wrong. Making a home is God's work. And men would find that lending a helping hand to their wives in the kitchen would do more than any other thing to promote happiness. For the Little Woman wouldn't mind half so much doing the household chores if it was a case of give and take, and husband was helping with the work.

The female octopus may lay as many as 30,000 eggs in the course of a few days.

May Not Give Driving Lessons In City Schools For Some Time

Driving instruction in Victoria schools may not be given for some time yet, it was intimated Tuesday by Austin I. Curtis, chairman of the Greater Victoria Board of School Trustees.

Speaking before the Kiwanis Club at the Empress Hotel, Mr. Curtis, in touching on the subject of the recently-announced plan of the provincial department of education to inaugurate driving instruction in high schools, was of the opinion that one of the major reasons for delaying the program in local schools would be the high cost of equipment and facilities.

"We only have so much money allocated to us," he said, "and much of it is needed now for improvement of school buildings, especially in rural areas which now come under the school board."

Another reason for not starting driving and road safety lessons immediately mentioned by the speaker was the fact that the curriculum of the schools was full now.

"Driving instruction would have to be given after regular school hours," commented Mr. Curtis.

SWIMMING LESSONS

In outlining the present school set-up in Greater Victoria the chairman of the board spoke of swimming lessons which have been given to all grade five students during the past two years. At the end of this school year, one-half the students in elementary schools will know how to swim.

"Physical education and public relations, formerly more or less neglected in many schools, now play a major role," stated Mr. Curtis. "Nowadays, physical education is being given in all schools, and the public relations of the Greater Victoria School Board are considered by many to be the best in the province."

"We feel that the taxpayer—the person who pays the shot—should know what is being done with his money. Any member of the board or the professional staff of our district will be glad to speak to a meeting, we will show education movies, and we will put anyone who desires on the mailing list of our bi-monthly publication, 'Education News'."

Mr. Curtis, for eight years a member of the school board, stated that the provincial government should not pay more than 50 per cent of the cost of education, since they then would want more control of local school affairs, an undesirable trend, in his opinion.

Few Canadian Soldiers Now Buried In Germany

All but 29 of 73 Canadian soldiers left buried in Germany have been moved to military cemeteries in Holland and Belgium, Ottawa authorities said this week. They said the task of locating, identifying and removing the remaining 29 is progressing and soon all will have been reinterred in an overseas Canadian grave. Five of these are known to be buried in Czechoslovakia and one is in Austria.

'Draft Drew Drive' Being Organized By Conservatives

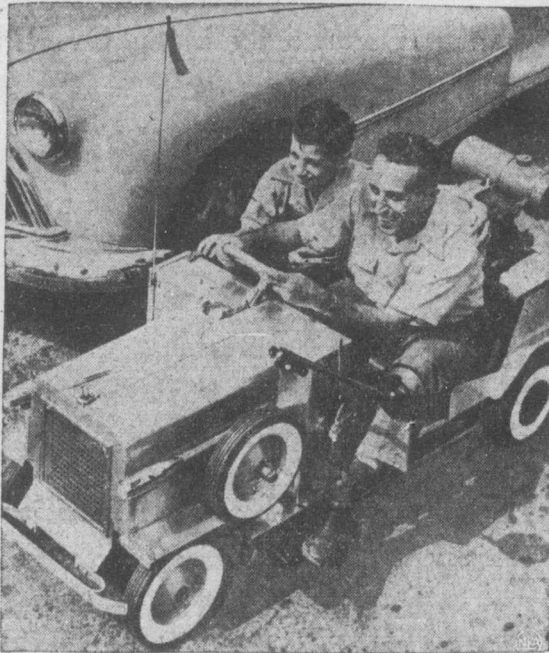

By NORMAN M. MACLEOD
Victoria Times Staff Correspondent

OTTAWA.—Growing belief that Ontario's Premier will contest the Progressive Conservative leadership only in response to a genuine national demand is resulting in the organization of a nationwide "Draft Drew Drive," political circles here learned over the Labor Day holiday.

The pro-Drew movement was said to be mushrooming in every province in the Dominion and to be scheduled to come out into the open almost any day now. Its sponsors were declared to include the majority of the federal members of Parliament and Senators, Conservative M.L.A.'s in various provincial legislatures, leading members of the party organization in every province, and prominent members of the Conservative rank-and-file who want to see a figure of national stature spearheading the party's drive for federal power.

Ultimate aim of the "Draft Drew" movement will be to convince the Ontario Premier that a truly national demand exists in the party for his services as leader. Only if thus convinced, responsible circles in the Conservative Party are beginning to realize, will Mr. Drew throw his hat into the leadership race.

A more immediate aim of the movement, however, will be to keep the coming convention body fluid and discourage prospective delegates from making advance commitments which might interfere with Mr. Drew's chances of success as a last-minute entrant.

Victoria Girl Wins Trophy At Nanaimo Meet

NANAIMO.—Dawn Josephs of Victoria, established a new record in the 50-yard junior girls' heat at the Nanaimo Post

No. 3 Native Sons' men's and women's British Columbia championship meet held here on Labor Day. She won the event with a time of 6 seconds flat. The old record was 6 4-10 seconds.

Approximately 1,500 spectators turned out for the sporting event. Ann Clark and other recent British Columbia Olympic contestants were present, some of them competing in different events.

Millie Cheaters and Shirley Gordon, Vancouver, jointly won the Native Sons' Davidson Memorial Cup for the highest aggregate in points.

The junior girls' high aggregate Weatherspoon Cup went to Dawn Josephs, Victoria, and G. Bemister, Vancouver, both scoring 10 points.

World's Mechanics Turn Out Unusual Autos

The urge for the different in cars is world-wide. The tiny car at left is the brainchild of a Philadelphia barber, Jacob Affannato. With his son in the sidecar, Affannato chugs along between 20 and 25 miles per hour. He gets 60 miles to the gallon from the four-horsepower, one-cylinder engine. The car cost him $265 to build. Below is a car produced in the Netherlands, although it's shown in Brussels, Belgium. It features a plexiglass top, called a "blister," which provides protection from the elements and full vision at the same time. The "blister" slides back and forth with ease.

Blood-Grouping Test For All Soldiers

Members of the Canadian Army Active Force are to be tested to ascertain their blood groupings and the information will be recorded on their medical documents and identification cards, it was learned in Ottawa this week. Military authorities said the information will prove a great time saver in the event the soldiers require transfusions or are called upon to donate blood to others. Many already contribute regularly to Red Cross blood banks.

Army Week To Be Held Across Canada From Sept. 20 To 26

The army won't be holding anything back during Army week, Sept. 20-26.

Every army building will be thrown open to the public and every piece of army equipment will be shown and explained, it was learned in Ottawa today.

Both Active and Reserve Force soldiers will participate in numerous parades, demonstrations, band concerts and social functions at local armories to which the public have been invited.

"Purpose of Army Week," one army officer explained, "is to familiarize the public with army activities and help create a favorable spirit of co-operation with the army by the public generally." It all adds up to the biggest "selling" job the Army has tackled since the end of the war—the job of selling itself!

War Bride Facing Murder Charge

FENELON FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Jean McAllister, 25, red-haired war bride, has been charged with the murder in the death of her husband, John McAllister, 30, whose body was found in bed at their home Sunday night with a bullet hole in the head.

He died about midnight before he could be taken to hospital.

Police said they found a .22-calibre pistol, believed the weapon used in the shooting, in the grass near the couple's house at Kirkfield, about 25 miles northwest of Peterborough.

Mrs. McAllister was not in the house when police arrived after the shooting was reported. Search parties said they found her about 7:30 a.m. Monday, coming out from a clump of bushes near the house.

McAllister was a Canadian navy veteran, formerly of Hamilton, who met and married his wife overseas. She formerly lived at Greenwich, Scotland. They had resided here about two years.

The couple had visited McAllister's parents Sunday night at a nearby cottage where the parents, Hamilton residents, were spending their vacation. They told police that the young couple seemed in fine spirits and on good terms when they left for home shortly before the shooting.

Neighbors said Mrs. McAllister underwent an operation last spring and was still in poor health, so she had not been "much of a mingler" since then.

Dairy Industry Hurt If Ban On Margarine Ended, Says Bracken

TORONTO (CP)—John Bracken, national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, said today the dairy industry is bound to be hurt if the ban on oleomargarine is removed.

"Whatever the merits or demerits of the ban or its removal," he said in a speech at the Canadian National Exhibition, "the latter, if it comes, will inflict a further handicap on the dairy industry."

Mr. Bracken addressed the agricultural and livestock review day luncheon at the C.N.E.

He predicted a government move to ease the margarine legislation, which prohibits importation, manufacture and sale of the butter substitute.

"It now looks as though government policies are leading up to either the admission of oleomargarine or its manufacture, or both, in Canada."

Mr. Bracken said Canada's most urgent agricultural problem is to reconcile "consumer and producer interests."

Referring to the recent removal of the ban on beef cattle shipments to the United States, he said:

"The simple fact is that the Canadian people cannot continue to buy from the United States if they are denied the right to sell to the United States."

SUBSIDY CRITICIZED

He criticized the principle of the government's wheat subsidy. "A policy of subsidization can be justified in abnormal times; it is generally regarded as being without economic justification when times are normal," he said.

"Canada's international food problem affects Europe chiefly, and the whole world indirectly," he said. "We must help to rehabilitate our customers if they are ever to be put in the position of buying from us in future and paying for what they buy. But, if direct aid is to be given to any country, it should be given by the nation rather than by the farmers of the nation only."

New Unemployment Insurance Rates Effective Oct. 4

The increase in unemployment insurance rates and benefits for workers with dependents, officially announced in July by the Unemployment Insurance Commission, will not become effective until Oct. 4.

This was stated by W. D. Rutherford, acting manager of the National Employment Service here, in order to clear up some confusion by many men now receiving benefits which they believe should be greater.

The boost in rates and benefits was approved by the federal government last spring, and applies only to persons with dependents, Mr. Rutherford said.

New contributing rate will be seven cents a day instead of six, and the maximum dependency benefit rate will be $3.05 per day or $18.35 per week. It is now $2.60 per day or $15.60 per week.

A dependent now includes any person connected to the claimant by blood relationship, marriage or adoption, if he is wholly or mainly supported by the claimant in the claimant's own home.

The benefit rate, according to Mr. Rutherford, will be 45 times the average contribution over 180 working days, the old rate was 40 times over the average over the previous two years.

Safe For Two Years Unemployment Pay

OTTAWA (CP)—Payment of unemployment insurance could continue at its present level for at least two years of a stiff depression, a government official said Tuesday.

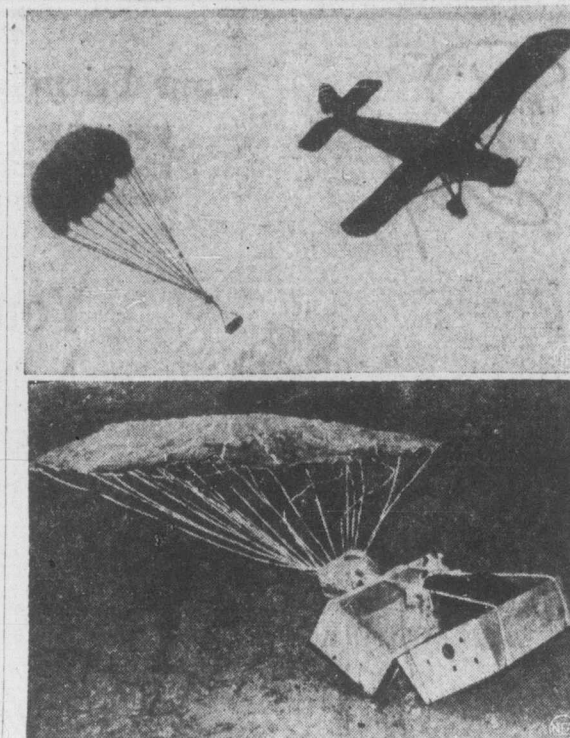

Disclosing the insurance fund is almost $500,000,000, Col. J. A. Bisson, head of the Unemployment Commission, said the backlog is large enough to weather a period of low employment.

If 20 per cent of those employable were to be thrown out of work, Col. Bisson declared in an interview, unemployment insurance payments could go on for "between two and three years."

Lauds Relations Of Canada-U.S.

SEATTLE (AP)—Representative Charles A. Halleck (Rep.-Ind.), majority leader in the United States House of Representatives, emphasized the "mutual respect, good will and co-operation" between the United States and Canada as a "shining example to the leaders of other nations whose people desire security and lasting peace" in a speech delivered here today.

In his address before the American Bar Association, Halleck said: "Here are two independent nations working out their destiny, side by side, for a period of over 100 years, without the greed, the bitterness and the hatreds that have to this day existed elsewhere in the world, and without guns, forts or armies protecting the almost 4,000 miles of border between us."

OPERATION BEAVER—Beavers are traveling by plane and parachute from settled areas of Idaho, where they damage irrigation systems, to primitive areas, where they can build dams and grow fur. Above, near McCall, Idaho, a plane releases parachute with a boxed beaver. Below, the parachute has settled to the ground where the special release device, which kept box closed in the air, opens allowing the beaver to crawl out and get to work.

Uncle Ray

FIRST MING EMPEROR HAD 'SUCCESS STORY' IN HIS LIFE

An old story of China tells of a king who did a strange thing. He caused his palace to be set on fire, climbed to the top of a tower and leapt into the flames.

There was a special reason for that king to want to die. He had been cruel to the people, and a revolt had started. He had lost a battle and wanted to escape from being punished by his enemies.

He was the last member of the ancient Shang dynasty and his death took place 3,070 years ago, according to an old record.

The leader of the revolting army was Wu Wang. His father had been put in prison by the king and this was one reason why he rose against the royal house.

After the great victory, Wu Wang declared himself king, and mounted the throne. He became the first of a long line of kings in the Chou dynasty.

The Chou dynasty was the longest of any in the history of China. It lasted for 866 years. During the time of the Chou dynasty, China grew in size. It spread out from the Yellow river valley southward, eastward and westward. At length it contained most of the land in what we now speak of as "China Proper." We are told that it contained 1,800 cities and villages.

China produced some of her greatest men during the Chou dynasty. These included Confucius, Lao Tse and Mencius. I shall have something to say about the life of Mencius in our next story.

Another dynasty was the Ming, which was started almost a century after Marco Polo visited China.

The man who started the Ming dynasty had a "success story." In his early manhood he was a cowboy, later he became a priest and still later the Emperor of China.

That man was Chu Yuan Chang. Taking care of cattle may have been interesting to him for a time, but he decided that he would rather be a Buddhist priest. Going to a monastery, he was accepted, and became a novice, then a priest. There was a rising revolt against the Mongol emperor, and Chu joined it. He became leader of one of the armies and met with so much success that he was able to make himself the ruler of China.

Tyee Derby Held At Alberni Canal

PORT ALBERNI—A feature of the three-day Paul Bunyan Day celebrations, which ended here Monday was the open Tyee Derby in which Wilfred Souther Sr. carried off top prize with 44½-pound salmon. More than 1,300 pounds of fish were taken from the canal waters during the event.

On Monday a record was made in the power saw world championship bucking contest by E. Sundberg and G. Veight of the Comox Logging and Railway Co. Ltd., Ladysmith. They won with a time-score of 2 minutes, 21½ seconds.

Outstanding time was made by J. C. Murray of Franklin River in the hand-bucking contest. He sawed a 50-inch log in 1 minute, 55 seconds.

City Solicitor Praised For Brief

A seven-page brief compiled by A. J. Patton, city solicitor, in connection with a campaign of the western provinces to obtain completion of the Trans-Canada Highway, won praise from Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works, in a letter received at City Hall today.

"This material is very timely in that it ties in with the great need in Canada today for a modern trans-Canada system and will be of assistance to the government and particularly to this department in impending discussions with the federal government," Mr. Carson wrote. "It is therefore very much appreciated."

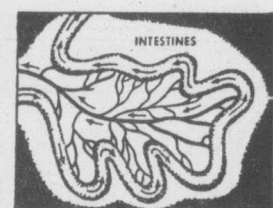

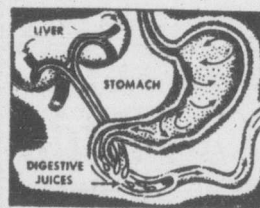

"May I take this opportunity to commend the compiler of this data in performing this service to the province outside of his usual line of work."

"Copies of the brief were sent to various government officials, upon instructions of city council, at its last meeting."

Let's look at the engineering record: in 1931 Dodge adopted Floating Power, featuring 3-point rubber cushioned engine suspension* to cut the effect of engine vibration to a minimum; in 1934 Dodge added Scientific Weight Distribution, with all passengers cradled between the axles*—as part of the famous Dodge Floating Ride; in 1937 owners acclaimed the Hypoid Rear Axle* for its quieter operation and longer life—in 1939 Independent Front Wheel Suspension*, by absorbing road shocks, produced a much smoother ride—in 1941 Dodge introduced Fluid Drive* on its Custom models, which still remain the lowest-priced cars with this quality feature—also in 1941 Dodge set a new standard of motoring safety with blowout-safe Safety Rim Wheels—in 1946 Dodge eliminated the annoyance of the clogged fuel line by fitting an Oilite Permanent Fuel Filter in the gas tank—water and dirt is filtered from the gas before it enters the fuel lines; in 1948 Dodge once again was a leader in its price class by fitting super-cushion tires as standard equipment on all models. Add to this outstanding engineering record the style and comfort that have always been combined in Dodge... restful chair-high seats—ample head and leg room—wide doors and many other comfort features... then you'll understand why Dodge owners say: "Dodge is First with me!"

Fleet Exercises As H.M.S. Sheffield Clears For Sea

With the flag hoisted (good-bye and good luck) flying from H.M.S. Sheffield's yard-arm, final exercises between units of the Second Canadian Destroyer Division and the British cruiser, wearing the flag of the Commander in Chief, America and West Indies Station, were concluded late Monday afternoon.

The destroyer division, led by Commander Owen C. S. Robertson, G.M., R.D., R.C.N., in H.M.C.S. Cayuga, with the destroyer Crescent and the frigate Antigonish in company, met H.M.S. Sheffield in the Strait of Juan de Fuca Sunday afternoon, and when clear of the straits commenced a night shadowing exercise 2 a.m. Monday. This tactical exercise, with Sheffield representing a damaged enemy cruiser escaping on a southerly course, came to a close at dawn Monday, when the Canadian ships closed in for a mock torpedo attack. Throughout the remainder of the day, fleet manoeuvres and evolutions kept the ships' companies constantly on the go. Early Monday evening the Second Destroyer Division parted company with H.M.S. Sheffield, the latter proceeding on to San Francisco, and Cayuga, Crescent and Antigonish shaping course westward for B.C. waters.

Soaring Bat Mark Puts Buccola In .300 Circle

On Aug. 3 Vic Buccola was batting .256.

Today his mark for the season is .304, third high on the club.

During the sensational hit streak, made in a little more than a month's time, Buccola has rapped enemy pitching for a 412 average, a mark that no other member of the club and that includes Archie Wilson, the league leader, could equal.

In the last week Buccola has climbed from .295 to his present standard. Seventeen hits in 38 trips to the plate did the trick.

Wilson's league leadership over Dick Sinovic was shaved a little more as the centre field flycatcher slipped four points to .367 as of Monday's twin bill with Bremerton. The big guy rapped out another triple and a pair of home runs during the week to increase his total bases leadership and RBI production to 126, which is the mark Dick Greco held before he was called to San Diego.

BALASSI CLIMBS
Charlie Balassi has started a late season spurt and may yet reach .300 figure along with Jensen .328 and Palmer .303, Buccola and Wilson.

The rifle-armed right fielder has made a nine-point gain since a week Monday for a present-day mark of .293.

Joe Blankenship racked up his 23rd win on Monday while Jim Propst stopped the Bluejackets in a pair of his 10th and 11th wins. Owens got number 14 against Tacoma and 15 off Bremerton while Len Kasparovitch chalked up his 17th.

Goes To Rainiers

VANCOUVER (CP)—In a late season move, Jack Warren, husky catcher for Vancouver Capilanos in the W.I.L., has been taken by Seattle Rainiers of the Pacific Coast League.

Warren, the Capilanos' leading hitter, joined the Rainiers today to replace veteran Rolfe Hemmley, who suffered a broken ankle during week-end play.

In return, the Seattle club will give the Caps "players" for Warren next spring. General Manager Bob Brown of the Caps wouldn't name the "players," but it is known he is after pitcher Bob Whitet.

World's Ranking Anglers In Great Tuna Tournament

WEDGEPORT, N.S. (CP)—

The world's best anglers today matched their cunning with elusive monster bluefin in the first day of the fifth international tuna tournament.

Long before dawn the most skilled fishermen of three continents were out on nearby Soldier's Rip, matching their skill against the powerful 800-pound fish that cavort in the freakish tidal current.

Champion anglers from the British Empire, Argentina and the United States are attempting to wrest the world title from Cuban fishermen who copped the championship for the second consecutive year here last September.

So far this year the tuna have been striking as never before on Soldier's Rip, a turbulent, mile-square part of the ocean that attracts the mighty "horse mackerel."

CANADIAN SKIFFER

Tom Wheeler, skipper captain of a British team including English, Canadian and Bermudian anglers, says he has good hopes of bringing the championship to the empire.

Wheeler, a resident of Toronto and Montreal, says he doesn't really care "so long as they are good matches."

"This is sport," says Wheeler. "Who cares who wins the prize if we have a few days' zestful and successful fishing?"

Julio Sanchez, genial captain of the champion Cubans, shares this point of view. Many of the fishermen give the Cubans credit for being the most enthusiastic fishermen of the lot.

Heading the Argentines, who landed a mammoth tuna in practice session Tuesday, is Captain Pablo Bardin, a descendant of the old Spanish caballeros who entertains in the same lavish style of his ancestors.

Calgary Women's Softball Squad Defeats Pacifics

VANCOUVER (CP)—Calgary Alexandra Tuesday night upset the dopesters by edging Vancouver Pacifics 3 to 2 in a tight 10-inning western Canada women's senior softball contest.

Calgary Monday dropped the two opening games of the best-of-five series for the western Canada title by scores of 6 to 1 and 15 to 0.

In a hurlers' duel Gwen Bennett of Calgary, the losing pitcher in the first game, struck out seven and gave up only five hits while the Pacifics' Laura Nelson fanned six and gave up four bingles.

Alexandras scored their winning run in the extra inning when Elsie Renaud walked—fourth walk of the tilt—went to second on an infield out, third on a passed ball and then scored on Jean Renaud's single.

The two teams will play the fourth game tonight.

Short score: R. H. E.
Calgary 3 4 3
Vancouver 2 5 5
Bennett and Renaud; Nelson and Turley, Elworthy (7).

WESTS PRACTICE

The Victoria West football team will hold a practice at Central Park tonight at 6.30. All last season's players and any others interested are asked to attend.

LOS ANGELES—Tommy Campbell, 137, Rock Island, Ill., outpunted Rudy Cruz, 137, Los Angeles (10).

Athletics Just Miss With Rally In 9th

Errors Costly In One-Run Loss To Bremerton; Spokane Keeps Pace

After spotting Bremerton Bluejackets three unearned runs in six innings, Victoria Athletics made a game attempt to pull last night's W.I.L. game at Athletic Park out of the fire only to go down to a one-run defeat 7 to 6.

A's had the tying and winning runs on the bases in the final frame but lacked the punch to drive them across and the Tars protected their percentage margin over Spokane at the top of the standings. The ever-challenging Spokane Indians remained in the thick of the race by knocking off the fourth-place Tacoma Tigers 7 to 5. The defeat dropped the A's four and one-half games back of the leaders and lessened their chances of taking it all.

Getting to Lenny Kasparovitch

for two runs in each of the first three innings, and a single late in the sixth, Bremerton managed to hold off the fighting A's in the closing stages. Kasparovitch went out in the eighth for a pinch hitter and Bill Harmsen finished up.

EXCITING FINISH

Last of the ninth saw Victoria go down fighting and the fans stayed right in their seats until the third out. Two runs down with two away Babe Jensen injected new life into the Norbertmen by slashing a home run over the centre field wall. Manager Alan Strange charged from the Bremerton dugout and waved in his ace southpaw Lloyd Hittle to replace starter John Conant. After Sal Recca had worked Hittle for a walk Manager-Norbert put in Del Owens to run in order to get more speed on the base paths. Dick Morgan, who was hitting the ball hard all night, lined a single into centre, Owens pulling up at second. With the stage set to tie it up

Lou Kubiak grounded out to second base to cut short the rally.

Athletics had one of their worst nights in the field in errors, being charged with five errors. Bremerton also made a couple of boots, which accounted for a pair of unearned runs.

VOLPI HITS HOMER

Bremerton took full advantage of three bobbles in the first three innings to cut loose with some power hitting for their six runs. Eddie Murphy contributed a triple and double, Eddie Samcoff a double and Frank Volpi a home run. Lil Arnerich's single, sacrifice hit, stolen base and catcher Recca's error provided Bremerton with what proved the winning run in the sixth.

After Recca had provided the A's first run in the second with a home run the Victoria club got a tough break when, with the bases loaded and only one out, Vic Buccola lined into a double play.

Morgan's double in the third drove in two more for the A's and they picked up another pair in the seventh on singles by Archie Wilson and Recca and Jensen's triple.

It was Conant's 21st pitching win of the season and Kasparovitch's 14th defeat.

Jack Teagan southpawed the Indians to their win over Tacoma, effectively scattering 13 hits. He also drove in three Spokane runs, including the winning tally in the eighth. It was Spokane's 11th win in the last 12 starts.

Salem pounded 16 hits, including three homers, to overwhelm Wenatchee 16 to 5. Cal McIlvin, Dick Sinovic and Eddie Barr hit for the circuit.

The Yakima Packers, who have a knack for dropping the close ones—and some of the others—lost an 8 to 7 verdict to the Vancouver Capilanos in 12 innings.

Third baseman Len Tran bunted home the winning run with the bases loaded in the 12th.

Pennant Fever Hits Rampaging Pirates

Pennant fever is spreading throughout Pittsburgh for the first time since 1938. Not since the Pirates blew the pennant to the Chicago Cubs 10 years ago in the last week of the season has a Pirate entry been a strong contender for the flag at this stage of the race.

The flag-hungry Pirates are in second place today, four games behind the league-leading Boston Braves.

Manager Billy Meyer's hustling crew wrested the runner-up slot from the Brooklyn Dodgers last night, beating the floundering St. Louis Cardinals, 6 to 2. The Dodgers, who were idle, trail the Pirates by .0007 of a percentage point.

Fritz Ostermueller, one-time property of both Brooklyn and St. Louis, stopped the Cardinals on seven hits last night as the Pirates made it three in a row over the Cardinals.

Ostermueller held the Cards scoreless until the ninth when

GIANTS WIN TWO

The loss cut the Cards' fourth-place margin over the New York Giants to a half game. The Giants took both ends of a doubleheader from the Phils in Philadelphia, 6 to 1 and 8 to 6 in 11 innings.

Sid Gordon sparked the Giants to both triumphs. The slugging third sacker cracked two doubles and drove in three runs in the first game and broke up the second when he belted his 30th homer with a mate aboard in the 11th inning. Gordon also sent the game into overtime, singling home Clint Hartung with the tying run in the ninth inning.

The setbacks dumped the Phils from sixth to last place. No games were scheduled in the American League.

SOUTH AFRICAN WINS

BIRMINGHAM, Eng. (AP)—Tony Lombard of South Africa outpointed Cliff Anderson of British Guiana Tuesday night in a 12-round bout in the British Empire featherweight title elimination tournament.

Then Victoria would be W.I.L. champions.

Any other combination unless it be in Victoria's favor would be useless.

Bremerton's schedule for the rest of the season finds the Jackets playing in Vancouver Thursday, Friday and Saturday (2 games), in Bremerton against Vancouver Sunday and remaining at home for the season's windup—three games against Wenatchee Chiefs.

Spokane tangles with Tacoma again tonight and Thursday night, moves back home to play Salem in four games Friday, Saturday and Sunday and plays host to Tacoma in the last three league games.

Veteran Quist Called Squealer By Aussie Press

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Australian sports writers Tuesday bitterly criticized the dominion's tennis administration and Davis Cup captain Adrian Quist.

One commentator called Quist "a champion sniveller and squealer."

Nettled by the 5-0 defeat at the hands of the United States in the cup challenge round, Australian writers demanded:

1. Encouragement of youngsters to build up a new cup team.

2. Overhaul of the Lawn Tennis Association of Australia.

The Sydney Daily Mirror in comment on the sports page blasted Quist harder than did Ted Schroeder and Frank Parker in the Davis Cup singles matches.

The Mirror snapped at Quist for objecting to criticism from Harry Hopman, veteran Australian Davis Cup star now in New York, that the team was the worst Australia ever sent to the United States.

The Mirror said Quist showed that "even if he was definitely finished as a Davis Cup player he was at least a champion sniveller and squealer."

The newspaper added that "snivelling at criticism and squealing under the lash of the pen as Quist did on the eve of the Davis Cup matches, in which Australia was admittedly beaten to a frazzle, was the worst form ever shown by any Australian in international sport. It showed that Quist could not take it."

Sir Norman Brookes, president of the Lawn Tennis Association, said after the defeat that "now it is up to us to build up younger players."

Alert Constable Catches Burglar On Job In Office

Caught in the act of ransacking a real estate office by an observant city constable early this morning, Christopher Kiteley appeared before Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today and pleaded guilty to breaking and entering.

Magistrate Hall remanded accused to tomorrow for sentence. Asked if he had anything to say, accused replied:

"All I can say is that I am up against it, that's all."

Overseas army war veteran Const. George Godsmark was making his rounds checking the premises to see if they were secure at 6.15 on Fort Street.

When he came to the real estate firm of Page and Snape at 849 Fort, he found the front entrance secure, but hearing noises from the interior checked further.

Looking through the window, he spotted Kiteley. At the same time the accused saw Const. Godsmark and ran toward the rear door.

The officer stationed himself at a corner of the building so that he could catch the man no matter which way he emerged from the building.

Kiteley apparently thought better of the escape from the rear and came out the front door—and right into the arms of Const. Godsmark. He did not suffer resistance.

Entry had been made by breaking a rear window.

Const. Godsmark told the court that a number of drawers had been pulled out in the office and the contents scattered over the floor.

Ex-Insurance Man Of Lake Cowichan Launches New Party

Formation of a new political party which will eliminate the income tax and hold individual earnings down to $12,000 a year is the aim of a former Victoria man, John Ernest Anderson, who recently has been in the insurance business in the Lake Cowichan area.

The party will be called the Canadian Peoples' Capitalistic League; Mr. Anderson told members of the press gallery at the Parliament Buildings.

He predicted the theories of the party will be welcomed and accepted throughout the Dominion, and will spread to the U.S., England, South Africa, New Zealand and Australia.

Mr. Anderson said the official organ of the league, The Canadian Mirror, is being printed and will appear later in the week.

It was his experiences in the insurance business which led Mr. Anderson to forming the new party. He found people cannot afford to take out insurance policies, and he stated: "It is time this situation was corrected."

Under his plan anyone making up to $12,000 a year will be exempted from paying taxes. Any amount of anyone's income over $12,000 a year will be taken by the government.

"We are asking that you attempt to pull our plan apart. We challenge you to do so. The league has the irrefutable answers to our basic national and world problems," Mr. Anderson said.

He said offices for the new party are being set up at 749 Broughton Street in Victoria, and other offices will be set up in other parts of the Dominion in the near future.

Nothing was reported missing from the C.N.R. dispatcher's office at Point Ellice bridge, which was broken into last night, city police report. Car of R. C. Woods, 363 Davida Street, was ransacked and a jack handle secured from it was used to smash windows to gain entrance to the building.

Sees Victoria As Centre Of Vast Wool Industry

Victoria as the nucleus of a manufacturing industry of wool products as vast as that of Australia is well within the realm of possibility, in the opinion of W. Sherman, executive officer of Felt and Textiles of Australia Ltd., now in Victoria.

Mr. Sherman's organization, composed of 65 companies and employing 60,000 persons, last year made sales totalling $40,000,000 and indications are that this year's sales will be even greater.

In addition, Felt and Textiles of Australia last year processed for Australian requirements alone 55,000,000 pounds weight of wool. As Mr. Sherman sees it, if Australia can achieve a mark such as that with only 7,500,000 population, then Canada, with a population twice the size, should be able to do at least as well.

RIGHT ORGANIZATION HERE

And, the Australian visitor said today, he believes the newly established Felt and Textiles of Canada Ltd. is just the right organization to form the nucleus for tremendous expansion. Here, he said, we have the right people

City Firemen Put Out Second House Fire In 3 Days

Victoria Fire Department crew under Assistant Chief Frank Briers this morning put out a fire which did about $1,500 worth of damage to the house owned by Gilbert Whitelaw at 2514 Graham Street.

The department got the alarm at 5.05 and found the back of the house blazing. The fire-fighters quickly got hoses into play and soon had the situation under control. Firemen were on the job for two and one-half hours before they were satisfied the fire was completely out.

Fire Chief Robert Brindle reported, after a visit to the place with the city building inspector, that the fire started on the rear porch, exact cause not known. Flames spread up the back of the house to the roof. The kitchen, living room and attic were also damaged.

This was the second house blaze in three days extinguished by city firemen, fire doing approximately the same amount of damage at 1460 Gladstone Avenue Labor Day morning.

An enthusiastic gardener, Mrs. Wright, while living here, often threw the grounds of her Beach Drive home, "Rifflington," open to the public for garden parties.

Dean Elliott Gives Farewell Sermon

Dean Spencer H. Elliott last Sunday evening preached his farewell sermon to the congregation of Christ Church Cathedral before leaving for Winnipeg, where he will teach in a college of theology.

The cathedral was crowded for the dean's last sermon and following the service one of the congregation expressed the feelings of others in terming it "most impressive."

"Such a ministry as the dean has exercised in Victoria for the past 10 1/2 years cannot be forgotten," she said. "Neither can his spiritual influence cease to be felt in the hearts and lives of his faithful people in Victoria and throughout British Columbia."

Watch Speed Limit In School Zones

Cafe Robbed Of $360 In Cash

Detectives Angus Munro and Fearon Woodburn of the city police today are investigating theft of $360 in cash from George Hayhoe of the Douglas Cafe, Douglas Street. Mr. Hayhoe reported the theft to police this morning. Investigations are proceeding.

Cyclist Injured

Francis Berera, 3135 Washington Avenue, is in Jubilee Hospital suffering from injuries following an accident the bicycle he was riding was involved in Tuesday night, city police report.

Police said Berera, in swerving to miss a car, collided with the curb and was thrown to the pavement on Burnside Road near Douglas Street shortly after 6. He sustained bruises to the left temple and abrasions to the face. Injuries are not serious, the attending physician reported today.

Officers said the bicycle Berera was riding is alleged to be one owned by Alan Blaney, who had earlier reported it taken from in front of the Bank of Toronto Building.

Okanagan Peaches Hit By Weather

The quantity of peaches arriving here this year is far less than wholesalers had expected, it was learned today.

A month ago, indications were that this year's peach crop in the Okanagan Valley would be one of the biggest and best ever. Cold weather last week, however, has hit the Okanagan crop rather hard and the peaches are turning out to be small in size.

All small peaches are sent to the jam factories.

There are plenty of Italian prunes and Bartlett pears coming through, however, and plums are also available in good quantity.

Cantaloupes are plentiful at the present time and wholesalers say their supplies will remain good until about the end of next week. B.C. watermelon will be available for about two weeks.

Citrus fruits—oranges, lemons and grapefruit—are plentiful and bananas, too, are in good supply. Tomatoes are temporarily short because of last week's rain. Tomatoes now in local stores are grown both locally and in the Fraser Valley.

Vegetables are plentiful.

Found guilty on a charge of doing an indecent act, Murray J. Gordon was sentenced to six months in jail this morning by Magistrate H. C. Hall.

Insurance To Come Before Convention Of B.C. Doctors

Questions such as prepaid medical care plans, the hospital insurance act, provision for the care of persons on relief, and the survey of health needs in the province, will be topics of discussion when the annual meeting of the British Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons is held in Vancouver, starting Sept. 29.

The meeting will be largely devoted to the discussion of medical economics. Conditions are changing, and how best the doctors can adapt the practice of medicine to meet new requirements is the problem that confronts them. The meeting is expected to attract the largest attendance in years.

The M.S.A., prepaid medical care plan, supported by practically all the doctors in the province, has been expanding rapidly. It was started in 1940. In June last year it had attained a membership of 80,000, and in June this year 117,000 persons were members and entitled to medical care on an insurance basis. There are also six other prepaid medical care plans in the province, covering 15,000 people.

HAD 160,000 MEMBERSHIP

The "Blue Cross" hospital insurance plan, also backed by the medical profession, had a membership of more than 160,000 persons before it decided to cease operations when the government's compulsory hospitalization plan becomes effective. The phenomenal growth of these medical care and hospitalization plans indicates that the people want protection on the insurance principle from the cost of sickness.

Whether the M.S.A. should be expanded, and if so how, will be a principal subject of debate.

Dr. William Wagner, president of the Canadian Medical Association; Dr. T. C. Routley, general secretary, and Dr. A. E. Arreier, consultant on economics, will be among the outside visitors to the provincial convention.

Moving pictures, including the Fraser Valley floods, will be shown in the new hall, Belmont at Pembroke, Friday night at 8. There will also be a musical program. A collection will be taken to assist in the completion of the interior of the hall.

ONE MINUTE NEWS

ABOUT

ASBESTOS HITS HEADLINES AGAIN

It's a big thrill for your J-M reporter to read how asbestos fights fire. Today I read a news clipping about a bad fire which destroyed a garage and ice house. The headline reads, "Asbestos Siding Saves House." The owner sent the clipping with this comment: "Our house stood within 25 feet of the scorching blaze. It was showered with sparks. But Johns-Manville Cedargrain Asbestos Siding Shingles kept it safe and sound."

You can give your home this same protection with J-M Cedargrains. They're absolutely fireproof. In over 35 years not one has burned... not one has worn out! Cedargrain Siding Shingles are strikingly attractive, too... have all the beauty of fine weathered wood. Ask your nearest J-M dealer for free illustrated folder. BLEACHER MURPHY LIKES STATISTICS WITH HIS BALL GAMES — HE'S A SUCKER FOR THE PROGRAM VENDORS

BUT EVEN BEFORE THE FIRST BALL IS PITCHED HIS SCORE CARD ALWAYS LOOKS LIKE THIS

The DOCTOR

Says:

ASTHMA USUALLY LEAVES WHEN IRRITATING CAUSE IS REMOVED

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Shortness of breath and wheezing in the chest are common symptoms of asthma. The physician is helped, in determining the seriousness of the condition and in prescribing treatment by listening to the chest through a stethoscope and by examining X-ray films.

The seat of the trouble is principally in the small tubes leading from the main breathing tube into the lung tissue itself. The walls of these tubes become thickened, the passage is narrowed and filled with mucus.

Sometimes the bronchial tubes also undergo contractions or spasms which still further narrow the space and cut down the air supply. The coughing associated with asthma is nature's way of trying to enlarge the openings.

ALLERGY CAUSES IT

Asthma is usually due to an allergy—the sensitiveness of the patient to proteins outside his body. These may be inhaled or eaten. When the protein responsible can be found and eliminated from the vicinity of the victim, the results may be very good.

Even when that cannot be done, treatment which is not aimed at the allergic cause is sometimes quite successful. Some treatments which have been used include the direct application of an iodized oil, the use of X-rays and the breathing of gaseous mixtures containing oxygen and helium.

Changing location or climate brings varying results — some are helped, others are not. A person with asthma, who is forced to consider a change, should give the new location a long trial period before deciding on a permanent residence.

Question—Can rheumatism be caused by eating heavy foods and insufficient raw vegetables?

Answer—Most authorities feel that none of the common forms of rheumatism are directly caused by overeating or deficiencies in diet. Of course, a diet which is badly out of balance will impair the general health.

ROYAL THEATRE

For the final scene in "The Emperor Waltz," Paramount's Technicolor romance-music, the studio hired the three smallest actors on record—three six-day-old puppies of undetermined origin. The puppies were promptly dubbed "Hart," "Shaffner" and "Marx" and were rented from the owners of "Buttons," "Scheherazade" and "Louie," who play important roles in the production. "The Emperor Waltz" co-stars Bing Crosby and Joan Fontaine and is now at the Royal Theatre.

Need Tall Boxer To Act In Movie With Robert Ryan

By HOWARD C. HEYN
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I like stories about guys who get knocked around," tall, raw-boned Robert Ryan told me, "because most people do get knocked around."

He was referring to his forthcoming picture, "The Set-Up," about a declining boxer. Not a champ, but a fighter who never was much good. "Just a guy, kinda dumb, who boxes because that's the only job he knows. The world is full of people like that, and they're not all boxers, either."

LITTLE SYMPATHY

Bob fights weariness much of the time, and he gets little sympathy. He told me: "Everybody says: 'Boy, would I like to get tired on your salary; you stand in front of a camera for a few minutes, and then go to your dressing room.' They persist in thinking that acting is a cinch. Well, we get good dough, sure, but we get tired too. Anyway, I don't stand in front of a camera much. I'm riding a horse, or getting socked."

Bob grew up around boxers and he says he probably would have been a professional fighter if his father hadn't convinced him that fighters were washed up at 30.

The only fight Bob is worrying about now is the one he's training for. Seems R-K-O can't find a professional opponent as tall as Ryan. An actor won't do because the fight can't be faked. The story covers a period of 80 minutes, and the film will be just that long too.

ODEON THEATRE

Fredric March, who started his business career with a brief employment in the National City Bank of New York, plays a pleasure-loving banker in Samuel Goldwyn's dramatic production, "The Best Years of Our Lives," now at the Odeon Theatre. Co-starred with him are Myrna Loy, Dana Andrews, Teresa Wright and Virginia Mayo.

YORK THEATRE

One of the most absorbing and unusual dramas ever to come to the screen was unreel at the York Theatre today in "South Riding," Alexander Korda's unforgettable filmization of an excellent novel.

The intriguing story of a man who was bound to a woman whom he could not have and fell in love with another who was also beyond his reach is set against a background of small town life which offers a revealing glimpse into the private lives of public characters.

RIO THEATRE

Edward G. Robinson "goes out talking" once more in Warner Bros.' exciting adventure film now playing a return engagement on the screen of the Rio Theatre. With much acumen, Robinson is co-starred with George Raft and Marlene Dietrich in this rough and tumble fight-to-the-finish tale of danger, friendship and a calculating siren.

ATLAS THEATRE

Hollywood's Number One movie fan is a guy named Van Johnson. The popular M-G-M star, currently appearing on the Atlas screen with June Allyson in "The Bride Goes Wild," sees on the average of four or five pictures a week. He is now deep in plans for a projection room to be built onto his new Santa Monica house. When the project is completed, it is safe to assume that viewing a motion picture each night will be a Johnson before-going-to-bed routine, like putting the cat out or winding the alarm clock.

DOMINION THEATRE

Excitement comes rushing on the double in thrills, blazing action and taut moments of suspense when Scotland Yard and the U.S. Secret Service team up to crack down on a clever and daring international ring and their beautiful blonde bait in "The Counterfeiters," a Twentieth Century-Fox release which is now at the Dominion Theatre, starring John Sutton, Doris Merick, Hugh Beaumont and Lon Chaney.

DeWolf Arrives To Take Over Post

One of the final acts of Rear-Admiral H. G. DeWolf, C.B.E., D.S.C., D.S.O., R.C.N., new Flag Officer Pacific Coast, left, before leaving the Atlantic coast was to extend best wishes to Commodore G. R. Miles, O.B.E., R.C.N., right, his successor as commanding officer of the aircraft carrier H.M.C.S. Magnificent. Admiral DeWolf, who arrived here Tuesday afternoon, is promoted to his present rank from commodore, effective today.—(R.C.N. Photo)

Arriving with Admiral DeWolf on the afternoon boat from Vancouver were Mrs. DeWolf, left, their 13-year-old daughter, Suzette, and their son, James, 8.

Disaster Restores Child To Parents

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Reunion of a four-year-old Binghamton, N.Y., girl and her parents, separated in March, 1947, was awaited by Duluth police today to complete a mystery that started with a Minnesota north woods cabin fire last month.

Identity of the girl, who escaped unhurt from an explosion and fire in a cabin at Side Lake, near Hibbing, Aug. 29, was at first uncertain.

She was in the company of Mr. and Mrs. John Laymee, 38. Mrs. Laymee died in the blast and her husband was severely burned. Sheriff Sam Owens of Duluth said he is positive the girl is Margaret Blecker, missing daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Blecker of Binghamton. The Bleckers, Owen said, are en route to Duluth to claim the child.

Owens said Binghamton police told him Margaret had been placed with Mr. and Mrs. Everett B. Carroll in Binghamton while her parents hunted an apartment. The Carrolls and the child disappeared.

Victoria Dancers To Perform At Texas State Fair

Fifteen dancers, including two Victorians, who appeared with screen and radio star Jimmy Durante at the Pacific National Exhibition in Vancouver, have got a "break."

So impressed was Durante with their performances that he has invited the group to support him in a show at the Texas State Fair at Dallas Oct. 9 to 24. Also in the show is Harry James and his orchestra.

Among the dancers are two Victorians—June Day, 1140 Vista Heights and Victor Duret, 433 Parry Street, and Donnie Rix and Bill Petch, now of Vancouver.

Chaperone will be Mrs. Gordon Hilker, wife of Gordon Hilker of Hilker Attractions, who arranged the trip. Mrs. Hilker is the former Betty Petch of this city.

The performers, all of whom danced in the Theatre Under the Stars here last month, will make the 2,100-mile journey in a special bus, stopping every three hours

City Building Up Over Last Year By $100,000

Building in the city of Victoria for eight months of this year totaled $4,280,184, marking an increase for the same period of 1947 of more than $100,000, according to monthly building figures released today by the city building inspector's office.

During the month of August this year 125 permits were issued for construction totaling $369,023. Of that number 22 permits were for houses valued at $130,900.

For the year to date, permits have been issued for erection of 260 houses, valued at $1,397,155. Total number of permits for the year to date is 1,368, representing a construction value of $4,280,184, as compared with 1,187 permits for construction totaling $4,163,431, for the same period in 1947.

PRISCILLA'S POP

How would you like your potatoes, dear—boiled or fried?

Either way is all right with me, Hazel.

Come now, Waldo. Surely you must have a preference!

Boiling them is easier. Wouldn't that do just as well?

Okay! Let's have them fried!

Indian Girl Gets 30-Day Jail Sentence

An Indian girl, one of the most consistent of all people charged in city police court this year with intoxication in a public place, found she will have to serve 30 days in jail as a result of her latest offence of this nature, when she appeared for sentence in the court this morning.

Magistrate H. C. Hall imposed the longer sentence after noting the numerous small punishments of three days had failed to have much effect on her.

Two cheques made out for $18.26 and $35 were stolen from the Golden Loaf Bakery, 730 Fort Street, by thieves who broke into the premises over Labor Day week-end, city police were informed last night.

Victoria and District Cornish Association will meet at 1603 Bay Street Saturday at 8.

Fish Film Two Years In Making Previewed
The story of British Columbia's fishing industry has been recorded expertly on film in two years by George J. Alexander, deputy minister of fisheries for the province, and will be used for educational and advertising purposes.
Preview was given today for government officials. The showing lasted 25 minutes.
Mr. Alexander was director of the film as well as photographer. It is recorded by Associated Screen Studios.
The story of the province's $40,000,000 a year industry starts with a complete series of films showing a salmon spawning. Excellent views of the salmon fighting their way up river are shown. Included are shots of the man-made fishways at Hell's Gate in the Fraser Canyon, and on Bridge River where the salmon are given a helping hand to by-pass swift-flowing rapids.
The film goes on to show all phases of catching fish—by gill net and purse seine—and then the audience is taken into the cannery to see how the catch is cleaned, cut, tinned and cooked, for distribution to world markets.

Outsiders Have Big Day In Race Meet At Winnipeg

WINNIPEG (CP) — Long-shot players had a field day Tuesday as the 14-day horse race meet continued at Polo Park. In only two out of the seven races did any favorite or near-favorite come under the wire first. Longest price of the day was returned by Neko, a three-year-old chestnut gelding owned by Buckley and Marks of Lexington, Ky., $23.40 for a $2 straight bet.

The fifth and feature, for three-year-olds and up, at a distance of 6 1/2 furlongs, was captured by Silent Flame, a flashy five-year-old chestnut mare owned by S. S. Ross of Calgary. Silent Flame returned $13.20, $10.70 and $4.20 across the board. Fair Party was second and Frank's Mistake, the odds-on favorite, was third.

Lance Destrer, overlooked in the betting in the first race, romped in first in the seven-furlong go and coupled with Min-tonis, winner of the second race, for a daily double of $151.40.

James J. L., heavily bet in the mutuels, won the final race and coupled with Cetoma for a quinnella of $8.90.

Alan Wallis Wins Cadet Scholarship
Alan D. Wallis, who was one of six Victorians recommended last week by Defence Minister Brooke Claxton for entrance into the Canadian Services College, H.M.C.S. Royal Roads, has been awarded an Air Cadet League scholarship which will cover the fees for the first year of his four-year course.
Son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Wallis, 1551 Gladstone Avenue, Alan has been active with the Greater Victoria Air Cadet Squadron, No. 89, for four years. During the summer of last year, while a WO2, he was picked as one of four British Columbians to tour the United Kingdom with a group of 46 air cadets from other parts of Canada.
He has served this last year as his squadron's WO1.
Wallis is the second Greater Victoria air cadet to win a scholarship to the officer training school. Last year, a similar award was made to Larry Crawford, who also served as a N.C.O. in the 89 squadron.
